II. Cérise, b. 6 Dec. 1875.
III. Crystal, b. 9 May, 1877.
IV. Valerie, b. 26 May, 1883.

Lineage.

Chamillart in 1666 describes the extinct Comtes de Cicé—related to the Champions de Crespigny of Vierville, near Fonteneys—as taking their name from their office. Jordan and Thomas de Fonteneys served in the first crusade, and Robert of Urvyle et Moulins in that under St. Louis at Aigues-Mortes (see DE MAGNY'S Memoirs of the Marquisses de Fonteneys, "dit Marmion," a junior existing branch). Ricard of Urvyle was Vicomte of Vire, a royal domaine and castle, in 1220, and another Ricard in 1350. In the 13th century the Urvyle branch succeeded to Forteneys le Marmion, but Bertrand le Champyon was deprived of his office and of Urvyle and Fonteneys by CHARLES VI., in favour of Robert Schottisbroke, with the original tenure, viz., attendance on summons in full armour with kindred, etc., at the feast of St. George, to present to the king at Cäen a flag with the arms of St. George for ever (Latin deed dated Falaise, 1 Jan. 1418). Betrand swore fealty to the Duke of Brittany in 1427 for his estates of Cambis and Belleeze, and retained his title of Vicomte of Vire. Of this family, Ricard, Guillaume, and Raoul proved nobility in 1334, Jean in 1470, others in 1501, 1599, 1635, 1640, and Robert was patron of St. Barberie at the end of the 16th century (Laroche, MSS.). On 7 Oct. 1668, Jaques, son of Pierre, Vicomte de Vire of Cambis, by his wife, Madelaine de Launay, proved descent from Ricard d'Urvyle, Vicomte of Vire in 1220, and by his wife, Marie, dau. of Dudley-Loftus Davies, M.P., had a son, Jaques-Loftus, whose only surviving child, Ellise, m. Andreas, grandson of Archdeacon Fras. Oläusv. Mollerus, of a family ennobled in 1440 and again by CHARLES V. and HENRY VIII., both German and English grants attesting to its great antiquity. Ellise's son and grandsons, field officers of cavalry and infantry, served at Waterloo, Inkerman, &c. Lieut.-Col. J. Olaus le Champion Moller (formerly Mollerus), now represents the last owners of Fonteneys in the female line; the male representative of the Marmions of Urvyle et Fonteneys le Marmion being Sir C. le Champion de Crespigny.

GUILLEACME, Baron d'Urvyle, in 1181 assisted his near relative, Lord Marmion of Tamworth Scrivelsby, and Fonteneys in endowing the Abbey of St Barberie, founded by Robert, Lord Marmion, in 1140. He left three sons,

I. Robert of Moulins, who gave lands to St. Barberie in 1223, and joined St. Louis at Aigues Mortes as a crusader.
II. Ricard, 2nd son, was Vicomte of Vire in 1220. His son, Jean of Urvyle et Bretvyle was living in 1289. He four sons,
1 Robert Bertrand, of Urvyle Bretvyle, and Fonten founded the fair of St. Hermies at Fonteneys le Marm in 1333, and his son, Roland, m. to Ellene de Fonten mounted guard at St. Arnoul in Iveline, 26 Nov. 1 The son of Roland, viz., Jean, was father of Bertr last Vicomte de Fonteneys, who was deprived of Fonte le Marmion and Urvyle on 1 Jan. 1418. Male becoming extinct in the 15th century on death Jaques Loftus le Champion.
2 Olivier, d. s. p.
3 Maheas.
4 Roger, supposed to be an ancestor of Le Champ d'Alenson, and of the Marquis de Fonteneys, Varnhanu.

MAHEAS CHAMPION, Chevalier, of Lower Normandy, Madlle. Busnel, dau and heir of Jean Busnel, Escu Sieur and Baron de Frenes; and dying in 1350, left a so RICHARD CHAMPION, Viscompte de Vire, in conseque of his father having obtained the Domaine du Roi. By wife, who was dau. of Hector Mensaut, Escuier, Sieur Lensentière, he had two sons.

I. JEAN, who took up his residence in Brittany, and f whom derived Les Sieurs de Chartres de Cicé, and o CHAMPIONS in that province, as well as CHAMPION DE C ci-devant archbishop of Aix, living in 1820, who came to England with other royalists, in the suite of the Duc Bourbon, and was hospitably received by the late Sir W liam Champion de Crespigny, Bart., at Champion Lodge.

Lineage.

The family of FRENCH is stated to have been originally DE FREIGNE, or DE FRAXINIS.

JOHN FRENCH, Esq. of Galway, b. in 1489 (4 HENRY VII.), a man of great wealth and liberality, and a munificent benefactor to the church, had a son and successor,

Peter French, Esq., mayor of Galway in 1576 (18 Eliz.), m. Mary, sister of William Martin, Esq., and had five sons, Peter (who had a son, John); Francis, of whom presently; Robert, of Galway; Nicholas; and Jasper. Peter French, whose will, dated 24 Sept. 1584, was proved in Dublin, was interred at Galway, and a sum of £5000 was expended on his monument, which adorned the church there until destroyed in Cromwell's time, by Colonel Stubber, then governor of the town. This monument was executed in Italy, and is described in the Annals of Galway to have been of "rayre sculpture and guilded with golde." His son,

Francis French, Esq. of Gortrassy and Sessueman Castle, co. Sligo, m. Una O'Conor, of the ancient race of O'Conor Sligo; and dying 20 Oct. 1624, left a son,

Stephen French, Esq., living in 1609, who m. Marian Lynch, of the family of Le Petit, barons palatine of Mullingar, and was s. by his son, Patrick French, Esq. of Dungar, otherwise French Park, co. Roscommon, whose great estates in Sligo were seized on by the Earl of Strafford, and partitioned amongst Sir Thomas Radcliffe, Sir Philip Perceval, &c. They were, however, subsequently restored, by order of the British parliament, in May, 1641, with £28,000 main rates; but Cromwell again dispossessed him. He m. a dau. of Martin, of Dangan, co. House of La Warr.

first of this family upon record,

OHN LA WARR, had a ratification, in the 8th of JOHN, of a t which that king had made, prior to his coming to the ne, of the lordship of Bristolton (a member of the honour Gloucester), to hold by the service of half a knight's fee. d. in six years afterwards, and was s. by his son,

ORDAN LA WARR, who then paid two hundred pounds for y of his lands. This feudal lord was in arms against King N, but on paying a fine, with two palfreys, was re-admitted favour. Nevertheless, we find him again fighting under baronial standard, and again making his peace after the le of Evesham. He was s. by

OHN LA WARR, who was sheriff of Herefordshire in the 3rd ARD I., and was s. by

OGER LA WARR, who in the reigns of EDWARD I. and ARD II., having had military summonses to attend the g in the wars of France, and being actively engaged in e as well as the Scottish wars, was summoned to parliament, as a BARON, from 6 Feb. 1299, to 16 June, 1311. His ship m. Clarice, dau. and co-heir of John de Tregoz, Baron goz; and dying in 1329, was s. by his son, OHN LA WARR, 2nd baron, summoned to parliament from Aug. 1307, to 26 Feb. 1347. This nobleman, in the 25 ARD I., his father still living, was in the expedition then e into Flanders, and the next year he was in the wars of land. In the 29th of the same reign, on the decease of his her, Clarice, he inherited a moiety of the property of his dfather, Lord Tregoz (to which barony he was co-heir, for an account of which see BURKE'S Dormant and inct Peerage); viz., Ewyas-Harold, co. Hereford: Alyngton, s; and other lands in the cos. of Somerset, Salop, and North-ton. After this, during the remainder of the reign of ARD I., he was constantly engaged in the wars of Scot-d, and was made a knight of the Bath. In the 14th ARD III., his lordship was in the great sea-fight off Sluy: he 16th, he was in the expedition to France, assisting at siege of Nantes; and in the 20th, he was in the van of the CK PRINCE at the glorious battle of CRECY. His lordship oan, sister and heir of Thomas de Gresley, Baron Gresley se chief seat was at Manchester, co. Lancaster; by which he acquired the great possessions of the Gresleys, and had.

John, who predeceased his father, leaving by his wife Margaret, dau. of Sir John de Holland,

1 ROGER, who s. his grandfather, as 3rd baron.
2 John (Sir), of Bokampton, in Berks, which he held by sergeantry, in keeping the king's dogs, called harriers, when he should come into those parts. Sir John was in the wars of Brittany; and dying in the 34th EDWARD III. s. p. left his estates to his brother.
1 Catherine, m. to Sir Warine Latimer, Lord Latimer of Braybrooke, and had issue,

John Latimer,
Sir Thomas Latimer, } successively barons.
Edward Latimer,

CATHERINE LATIMER, m. to Thomas Griffin, and had a son, JOHN GRIFFIN, whose descendant, EDWARD GRIFFIN, was created BARON GRIFFIN of Braybrooke.

His lordship d. in 1347, and was s. by his grandson,

SIR ROGER LA WARR, 3rd baron; summoned to parliament from 14 Aug. 1362, to 1 June, 1363. This nobleman, in the 30th EDWARD III., shared in the glory of Poictiers, wherein the French King with the Dauphin were made prisoners. Touching the capture of the King of France, it is recorded that much contention took place, as he defended himself with great valour; and the pressure upon him becoming great, such as knew him cried out "Sir, surrender, or you are dead"; whereupon he yielded, according to Froissart, to Sir Dennis Morbeck, a knight of Artois, in the English service; but being forced from that captain, more than ten knights and esquires claimed the honour of taking the royal prisoner. Amongst these, the pretensions of Sir Roger La Warr and Sir John Pelham (ancestor of the Pelhams, Dukes of Newcastle, and of the Lord Yarborough and Pelham) having been acknowledged the strongest, Lord Delawarr had, in commemoration of so valiant an exploit, the crampet, or chape, of the captive prince's sword; and Sir John Pelham had the buckle of a belt as a memento of the same achievement. His lordship continued for several years after Poictiers in the French wars, and acquired greater renown in every subsequent campaign. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Adam, Lord Welles, and had issue, JOHN and THOMAS, successively Barons Delawarr His lordship m. 2ndly, Alianore, dau. of John, Lord Mowbray, and had an only dau., JOANNA, who m. Sir Thomas West, 3rd Baron West, and had issue, THOMAS, Lord West, who d. s. p.; and REGINALD (Sir), summoned to parliament, jure matris, as Baron Delawarr. Lord Delawarr d. in 1370, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN LA WARR, 4th baron, summoned to parliament from 8 Jan. 1370, to 5 Nov 1397. This nobleman, before and after his father's decease, was in the wars of Gascony with Prince EDWARD. In the 22nd of RICHARD II., his lordship obtained a special dispensation exempting him from attending any future parliaments, or serving the king in his wars, or otherwise, against his own good will. Shortly after which he departed this life, anno 1398, and dying unm., was s. by his brother,

THOMAS LA WARR. 5th baron, who being a priest, and rector of the church of Manchester, was summoned to parliament from 10 Aug. 1399, to 7 Jan. 1426, as "Magistro Thomæ de la Warre." In the 9th HENRY V., his lordship obtained licence for making the parish church of Manchester collegiate; to consist of a warden and a certain number of priests, to celebrate divine service continually, for the good estate of HENRY V., and of him, the said Thomas, during this life, and afterwards for the health of their souls. He d. in 1426, when the Barony of Delawarr devolved upon his half-sister's son, Sir REGINALD WEST, Lord West, as in the above account of the Wests.

DE L'ISLE AND DUDLEY.

DE L'ISLE AND DUDLEY, BARON (Sir Philip Sidney, of Penshurst, co. Kent, and a Baronet, D.L., late lieut. royal horse guards, b. 29 Jan. 1828; s. his father as 2nd baron 1851; m. 1st, 23 April, 1850, Mary, only child of Sir William Foulis, 8th bart., and by her (who d. 14 June, 1891) has,

His Lordship m. 2ndly, 25 Jan. 1893, Emily-Frances, elder dau. of the late William-Fermor Ramsay, Esq.

Lineage.

Sir Bysshe Shelley, 1st baronet of Castle Goring, m. for his 2nd wife, Elizabeth-Jane-Sidney, only dau. and heir of William Perry, Esq. of Turvill Park, Bucks; of Wormington, co. Gloucester; and of Penshurst Place, Kent; granddau. (maternally) of Col. Sidney, and great-niece of the last Earl of Leicester (see Burke's Extinct and Dormant Peerage) of the Sidney family, by whom he had (with junior issue),

John, who assumed the additional surname and arms of Sidney upon inheriting the Penshurst estates, and being created a Baronet as above, was

Sir John Shelley-Sidney, heir and representative, by maternal descent, of the Beaumonts and Beauchamps, ancient Earls of Warwick; the Dudleys and Sidneys, Earls of Leicester; and claimant of the Baronies of De L'Isle and Izes. The Sidneys, who are of Norman extraction, lineally descended from Sir William Sidney, Knt., chamberlain to King Henry II. Sir William Sidney, to whom Penshurst Place was granted by King Edward VI., was chamberlain and steward of the household to King Henry VIII., and was one of the commanders at the battle of Flodden, in 1515. His son, Sir Henry Sidney, was honoured with the confidence and friendship of Edward VI., and was lord-president of Wales and lord-deputy of Ireland in the reign of Elizabeth. "A more exalted character than that of Sir Henry Sidney," observes Dr. Zouch, "is scarcely to be found in the volume of history. It deserves to be better known. In him we behold the brave soldier, the consummate general, the able counsellor, the wise legislator; while in the recesses of private life he was no less estimable as a husband, a father, and a friend: firmly attached to the Church of England, and adorning his christian profession by his temperance and exemplary piety." He was father of the all-accomplished Sir Philip Sidney, whom Camden describes as "the great glory of his family, the great hope of mankind, the most lively pattern of virtue, and the glory of the world." Sir Henry Sidney's 2nd son,

Robert Sidney, was created successively, by James I., Baron Sidney of Penshurst, Viscount L'Isle and Earl of Leicester, and was s. by his son, Robert, 2nd Earl of Leicester. This nobleman was father (he had four other sons) of the celebrated Algernon Sidney, and of Henry Sidney, created Earl of Romney, and of Dorothy, Countess of Sunderland, the poet Waller's Sacharissa, who, after her husband, Henry Spencer, 1st Earl of Sunderland, was slain at the battle of Newberry, 1643, m. 2ndly, Robt. Lineage.

is family which claims descent from the Counts of Haps, settled in England in the reign of Henry III.; and the ion of its so settling is explained in an ancient manuscript, en about King Edward IV.'s time, wherein it appears, Geffery, Count of Hapsburgh, having been reduced to poverty by the oppression of Rodolph, Emperor of Ger-
, one of his sons,

Sir Geffery, served Henry III. in his wars in England, and assumed the surname of Felden, of Fieldeng, or Filding, from his father's pretensions to the dominions of Laufenbourg and Rheinfelden. His son, Geffery Feilding, m. Agnes, dau. and heir of John de Napton, by whom he acquired the lordship of Misterton, co. Leicester, and was father of William Feilding, who acquired, by marriage with Joan, dau. of William Prudhome, and granddau. and heir of Robert de Newnham, the manor of Newnham Paddox, co. Warwick, which has ever since continued the chief seat of the family.* The grandson of this William.

Sir William Feilding, a stanch adherent of the house of Lancaster, fell at the battle of Tewkesbury, 4 May, 1471. Sir William m. Agnes, dau. and heir of John St. Liz, a branch of the noble house of St. Liz, Earls of Northampton and Huntingdon, with whom he had the lordship of Martinsthorpe, co. Rutland, and a descent in blood from the great families of Vaux, Longvile, and Bellers. He was s. by his eldest surviving son,

Sir Everard Feilding, K.B., who was sheriff of the cos. Warwick and Leicester in the 21st of Edward IV., and had a command in the king's army at the battle of Stoke, in 1487. Sir Everard was s. by his eldest son,

Sir William Feilding, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Poultney; and dying in 1547, was s. by his son,

Lineage.

SIR EDMOND DENNY, Knt., one of the Barons of the court of Exchequer in England in the beginning of the 16th century, was great-grandson of John Denny, Esq., who fell in the French wars of HENRY V., and was interred at St. Denys. The judge d. in 1520, and there is a monument to his memory in the church of St. Bennett, Paul's Wharf, London. By his last will he directed his body to be laid in that church, and that twenty trentals of masses should be said for his soul, and for the souls of his wives deceased, and those of William and Agnes, his father and mother. The 4th son of this learned person,

SIR ANTHONY DENNY, Knt., b. in 1500, was groom of the stole in 1518, and one of the privy council to HEN. VIII. This gentleman was the only individual amongst the courtiers who dared to apprize his royal master of his approaching dissolution. HENRY had, however, so high an esteem for Sir Anthony, that he could perform that sad office with impunity, and the monarch presented him with a magnificent pair of gloves worked in pearls, which still remain in the possession of the family. Sir Anthony was appointed one of the King's executors and one of the guardians of EDWARD VI. He m. Joan, dau. of Sir Philip Champernoune, of Modbury. me of LATHOM, from his place of residence), and thus red those estates. In 1385, Sir John Stanley was lord-y of Ireland, and had a grant of the manor of Blake
, in that kingdom. In 1405, he had a commission, in nction with Roger Leke, to seize on the city of York and erties, and also upon the Isle of Man, on the forfeiture of Percy, Earl of Northumberland; and in the 7th HENRY eing then treasurer of the household to the king, obtained e to fortify a house at Liverpool, which he had newly with embattled walls. In the same year, having taken sion of the Isle of Man, he obtained a grant in fee of the sle, castle, and pile, anciently called Holm Town, and all iles adjacent, as also all the regalities, franchises, &c., to olden of the said king, his heirs, and successors, by ge, and the service of two falcons, payable on the days eir coronation. On the accession of HENRY V., he was

Lineage.

This is one of the very few houses still existing in England of undoubted Saxon origin; an origin confirmed not only by tradition, but by authentic family documents. Wotton in his Baronetage, A.D. 1741, narrates that

DIERING MILES (from the Saxon word Diering, signifying Terror), appears as witness to a deed, by which King ETHELUFF granted certain lands in Cuckhstone to the church of Rochester in 880. To pass, however, to more recent progenitors, we find

SIR RICHARD DERING, Knt. of Heyden, lieut. of Dover Castle in the reign of RICHARD II. His grandson,

RICHARD DERING, Esq. of Surrenden, d. in 1481, and was s. by his son,

Lineage.

"That Peter, the ancestor of this great and noble family," says Dugdale, "did originally assume his surname in the time of Henry I., from that lordship in Holderness, called Ros, where he then had his residence, needeth not to be doubted." This Peter m. Adeline, one of the sisters and co-heirs of the famous Walter Espec, and was s. by his son,

Robert de Ros, who was s. by his son,

Everard de Ros. This feudal lord m. Roysia, dau. of William Trusbut, of Wartre, in Holderness, and at the decease of her brothers without issue, co-heir to her father's estate; which estate was eventually inherited by her descendants, the Lords Ros, her sisters and co-heirs leaving no posterity. Everard de Ros died about the year 1186, and was s. by his son,

Robert de Ros, surnamed Furfan. This feudal lord, in the time of Richard I., was imprisoned in Normandy, and forced to pay a considerable sum for his deliverance. But, under King John he regained the whole barony of his great-grandfather, Walter Espee, and was soon after employed as one of the commissioners to conduct William, King of Scotland, into England. Robert de Ros was the founder of Hamlake Castle, in Yorkshire, and of Werke Castle, in Northumberland. During the troubles in King John's reign, he espoused the baronial interests and was a leader in the baronial army. He m. Isabel, natural dau. of William the Lion, King of Scotland, and had issue,

William, of Helmsley, of whom presently.

William, of Ingmanthorpe, from whom descended the Ros's of that place

Having assumed the habit of the order of Knights Templars Robert de Ros d. in 1227, and was buried at London, in the Temple Church. His eldest son's eldest son, Robert de Ros, taking an active part against the king, was one of the chief barons, who, after the battle of Lewes, in 1264, where Henry III., and his son, Prince Edward, became prisoners, was summoned to the parliament, which was called by the barons in the king's name, as Baron de Ros, 24 Dec. 1264. His lordship m. Lady Isabel, the great heiress of William de Albini, Lord of Belvoir, in Leicestershire; and dying in 1285, was s. by his eldest son,

William, 2nd Baron de Ros. This nobleman was an unsuccessful competitor for the crown of Scotland in 1292, and in 1296, he obtained from Edward I. a grant of Werk-Castle, upon its forfeiture by the treason of his kinsman, Robert de Ros. His lordship m. Matilda, dau. and co-heir of John de Vaux, and was s. in 1316, by his elder son,

William, 3rd baron, who m. Margery, eldest sister and co-heir of Giles, Lord Badlesmere, of Ledes Castle, in Kent; and dying in 1343, was s. by his elder son,

William, 4th baron. This nobleman had the glory of leading the second division of the English army at the celebrated battle of Crecy. He m. Margaret, dau. of Ralph, 2nd Lord Nevil; and dying s. p. in 1362, was s. by his brother,

Lineage.

The COURTENAYS are one of the most illustrious races amongst the English nobility, and have had a brilliant historian in Gibbon. In the time of HENRY II.

SIR REGINALD DE COURTENAY, m. HAWISE, dau. or granddau. of Robert de Abrincis, and was s. by his son, ROBERT DE COURTENAY, as feudal Baron of Oakhampton, Viscount of Devonshire, and governor of the castle of Exeter. This Robert, in 1214, was made governor of Bridgnorth, in Shropshire, and the following year, sheriff of Oxfordshire, and governor of the castle of Oxford, when the king (JOHN-committed to him the coinage of tin in Devonshire and Cornwall. He m. Mary, youngest dau. of William de Redvers, surnamed VERNON, 6th Earl of Devon; and dying 26 July, 1242, was s. by his elder son,

JOHN DE COURTENAY, as feudal Baron of Oakhampton; who m. Isabel, dau. of Hugh de Vere, Earl of Oxford, lord-high chamberlain of England; and dying in 1273, was s. by his only son,

HUGH DE COURTENAY, Baron of Oakhampton. This feudal lord m. Eleanor, dau. of Hugh, Lord Le Despencer, and d. 28 Feb. 1291, and was s. by his elder son,

HUGH DE COURTENAY, Baron of Oakhampton. This nobleman having distinguished himself in the Scottish wars of EDWARD I., was one of the three hundred persons of eminence knighted by that monarch at Westminster. In the reign of EDWARD II., he was created a Knight-Banneret; and was fifteen times summoned to especial treaties in parliament, as a baron, within the first eight years of EDWARD III., and twice in the 9th of the same monarch, by the name of Hugh de Courtenay, EARL OF DEVONSHIRE, being the last earl in order, as having been that year only restored to the dignity, in right of his great-grandmother, Mary, dau. of William de Redvers, Earl of Devon. His lordship m. 1292, Agnes, dau. of the Lord St. John of Basing, and was s. at his decease, in 1340, by his eldest son,

HUGH DE COURTENAY, 2nd Earl of Devon, b. 12 July, 1303, who had m. 11 Aug. 1325, Margaret, dau. of Humphrey Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex (lord-high-constable of England), and his wife, the Lady Elizabeth Plantagenet, dau. of EDWARD I., by whom (who d. 16 Dec. 1391), he had (with nine daus.) eight sons, viz.,

I. Hugh, Lord Courtenay, b. 22 March, 1326-7 commonly called Hugh Courtenay le Fitz, one of the gallant soldiers of the martial reign of EDWARD III., a participator in the glories of Crecy, and a Founder Knight of the Garter. He was summoned to parliament, as BARON COURTENAY, 8 Jan. 1371. His lordship m. 1341, Elizabeth, dau. of Guy Brian, Lord of Tor-Brian, in Devonshire, and sister of the famous Guy, Lord Brian, K.G., standard-bearer to the king at Crecy; and dying in the lifetime of his father, left by his wife (who d. 23 Sept. 1375), an only son, Hugh, Lord Courtenay, who m. Matilda, dau. of Thomas Holland, Earl of Kent, by Joan Plantagenet his wife, the celebrated FAIR MAID OF KENT, granddau. of EDWARD I. (and mother, by the Black Prince, of RICHARD II.). Hugh Courtenay d. 20 Feb. 1373-4, a few years after his father, and before his grandfather, leaving no issue. His widow m. Waleran, Count of St. Paul.

II. Thomas, M.P. for Devonshire, d. before his father.

III. EDWARD, of Godlington (who d. also before his father), m. Emeline, dau. and heir of Sir John Dawnay, Knt., and had issue,

1 EDWARD, successor to his grandfather, as 3rd earl.

2 Hugh (Sir), of Haccomb, m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir William Cogan, and widow of [illegible] Fulk Fitzwarine, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Philippa, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Arcedekene, and had an only dau., Joane, m. 1st, to Nicholas, Lord Carew; and 2ndly, Sir Robert Vere.

Sir Hugh Courtenay m. 3rdly, Maud, dau. of Sir John Beaumont, of Sherwell, in Dorsetshire, by whom he had (with a dau., Margaret, m. to Sir Theobald Grenvill, Knt.) a son and heir,

HUGH (Sir), of Boconnock, who m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Carminow, of Carminow, and fell at Tewkesbury, leaving two sons and four daus.,

EDWARD, created in 1485, EARL OF DEVON.
Walter (Sir), who d. unm.
Maud, m. Sir John Arundell, of Tolverne.
Elizabeth, m. John Trethurffe, Esq.
Isabella, m. William Mohun, Esq. of Hall, Lanteglos, Cornwall.
Florence, m. John Trelawny, Esq.

IV. William, archbishop of Canterbury in 1381; d. in 1396.
V. John, M.P. for Devonshire, temp. RICHARD II.
VI. PHILIP (Sir), of Powderham Castle, of whom hereafter as ancestor of the present Earl of Devon.
VII. Peter (Sir), K.G., standard-bearer to EDWARD III., constable of Windsor Castle, governor of Calais, and chamberlain to RICHARD II.; d. unm. 1409.
VIII. Humphry.

Hugh, 2nd Earl, d. 2 May, 1337, and was s. by his grandson,

EDWARD, 3rd Earl of Devon, commonly called The Blind Earl, b. circa 1357. This nobleman served to the beginning of the reign of RICHARD II. as a naval officer, under JOHN of Gaunt, and THOMAS of Woodstock, respectively; and was appointed, in the 7th of the same monarch, admiral of all the king's fleet, from the mouth of the Thames westward. In the next year, being then EARL MARSHAL, his lordship was retained to serve the king in his Scottish wars. He m. Maud, dau. of Thomas, Lord Camoys; and dying 5 Dec. 1419, was s. by his second but only surviving son,

HUGH, 4th Earl of Devon, K.B., b. 1389, who m. Anne, dau. of Richard, Lord Talbot, and sister of the renowned Earl of Shrewsbury; and dying 16 June, 1422, was s. by his son,

THOMAS, 5th Earl of Devon, b. 1414. This nobleman commenced his military career at the age of sixteen, and was engaged for several years in the French wars of HENRY VI., with whom he sided on the breaking out of the unhappy conflict between the houses of York and Lancaster; and the Courtenays ever after adhered, with desperate fidelity, to the RED ROSE. In 1448, a dispute regarding precedency arose between the Earls of Devon and Arundel, which was decided by parliament in favour of the latter lord, owing to his feudal possession of Arundel Castle. The Earl of Devon d. 3 Feb. 1458, in the Abbey of Abingdon, upon his route to London, as a mediator, with other noblemen, between the king and the Duke of York. He m. Lady Margaret Beaufort, 2nd dau. of John, 1st Earl of Somerset, and Marquess of Dorset, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 6th Earl of Devon, b. 1432. This nobleman inheriting the political principles, with the honours, of his deceased father, was a strenuous upholder of the Lancastrian interests, and falling into the hands of the Yorkists, at Towton Field, he was beheaded at York, by order of EDWARD IV., 3 April, 1461. His lordship was subsequently attainted and the honours of the house thus became eclipsed; but his next brother, HUGH COURTENAY (7th earl, but for the attainder), finding favour with the new king, had restoration of some part of the estates. Engaging, however, in the Lancastrian quarrel, with the zeal of his predecessors, he was himself attainted, 4 May, 1466, before the king and justices at Sarum, and beheaded, with the Lord Hungerford, on the same day.

(The greater part of the Courtenay estates having been conferred upon Humphrey Stafford, Baron Stafford of Southwicke, that nobleman was created EARL OF DEVON in 1469; but falling under the axe as a traitor, 17 Aug. following, the dignity expired.)

Upon the demise of Hugh Courtenay, his only surviving brother,

JOHN COURTENAY, assumed the EARLDOM OF DEVON, and the Lancastrian interest prevailing in 1470, by the expulsion of King EDWARD, his lordship was restored to the honours and possessions of his family by the parliament that replaced the crown upon the head of HENRY VI. The subsequent defeat, however, of Richard Nevill, the stout Earl of Warwick, at Barnet Field, 14 April, 1471, again placed the fortunes of the house of Devon in jeopardy, and the earl, joining MARGARET OF ANJOU, fell, sword in hand, at Tewkesbury, 14 May following, at the head of MARGARET'S rear-guard. Thus the three brothers sealed with their blood their bond of fidelity to the house of Lancaster, and with them expired the senior branch of the ancient and illustrious house of Courtenay. The last earl was buried Tewkesbury, and being attainted, the honours and esta of DEVON became again forfeited.

The branch being thus extinguished, we proceed to tl founded by

SIR HUGH COURTENAY, of Haccomb, brother of EDWA 3rd earl (revert to issue of Hugh, 2nd earl). This gent man's only son,

SIR HUGH COURTENAY, Knt., was of Boconnock, in Co wall, and M.P. for that shire. He m. Margaret, dau. a co-heir of Thomas Carminow (the last heir male of tl ancient family, whose other dau. and co-heir was m. to Thomas Carew, of Mohun's Ottery), and had issue,

I. EDWARD (Sir), his successor.
II. Walter (Sir), d. unm.
I. Maud, m. Sir John Arundell, of Tolverne.
II. Elizabeth, m. to John Trethurffe, and had a son,

THOMAS TRETHURFFE, who left two daus.,

Elizabeth, m. to John Vivian.
Margaret, m. to Edward Courtenay, Esq. of Larroc

III. Isabel, m. to William Mohun.
IV. Florence, m. to John Trelawny.

Sir Hugh, faithful to the Red Rose, fell, with his noble kin man, the Earl of Devon, at Tewkesbury; and his eldest so

SIR EDWARD COURTENAY, being involved with his broth in the conspiracy of Henry Stafford, Duke of Buckingha in favour of Henry, Earl of Richmond, was forced to into Brittany upon the failure of the plot and the decapi tion of the duke. Participating, subsequently, in the v tory of Bosworth, he was elevated to the peerage HENRY VII. (26 Oct. 1485), as EARL OF DEVON, and obtained grants, at the same time, of the greater part the estates, manors, &c., which had belonged to the la Thomas Courtenay, Earl of Devon. His lordship m. Eli beth, dau. of Sir Philip Courtenay, of Molland, and had only son, William (Sir), K.B., who m. the Lady Katherine Plan genet, dau. of EDWARD IV. In the year 1502, Sir Willia was arrested, with Lord William de la Pole, Sir Jam Tyrrell, and Sir John Wyndham, and accused of holdi a traitorous correspondence with Edmund de la Po Earl of Suffolk, then a refugee at the court of his au Margaret, Duchess of Burgundy; and he was attaint in 1504. Tyrrell and Wyndham were beheaded on Tow hill while Courtenay was doomed to incarceration duri the king's reign.

The earl d. 28 May, 1509, and HENRY VIII. ascending t throne in the same year, that monarch immediately releas

SIR WILLIAM COURTENAY, and took him into favour; b he died (9 June, 1511) three years afterwards, before he h either letters patent or a formal restoration of the earldo He was buried, however, "with the honours of an earl," the especial command of the king. He m. circa 1495, t Lady Catherine Plantagenet, by whom (who d. 15 No 1527) he left an only son,

HENRY COURTENAY, who having been restored in blo and honours, became 2nd Earl of Devon of the ne creation. In 1522, his lordship obtained a grant of Ca land, in Cornwall, and of a "fair mansion," situate in t parish of St. Lawrence Poultry, in the city of Londo forfeited by the attainder of Edward Stafford, Duke Buckingham, and was advanced by letters patent, dat 18 June, 1525, to the dignity of Marquess of Exeter. F some years this nobleman enjoyed the favour of the fick HENRY, but he fell at length a victim to that monarch jealousy of the house of Pole. He was committed to t Tower with Henry Pole, Lord Montacute, and Sir Edwa Nevill, for conspiring to place Reginald Pole, dean Exeter upon the throne, and was beheaded with S Edward Nevill, 9 Jan. 1539. On the subsequent attaind of the marquess all his honours expired, and the kin annexed to the Duchy of Cornwall the lands in that count which thus came to the crown. His lordship m. 1st, Eliz beth Grey, dau. and heir of John, Viscount Lisle, but t that lady had no issue. He m. 2ndly, 25 Oct. 1519, Ge trude, dau. of Wm. Blount, Lord Mountjoy, by who (who d. 25 Sept. 1558) he left an only surviving child,

EDWARD COURTENAY, who, though but twelve years age at the death of his father, was committed prisoner the Tower, and detained there during the remainder King HENRY'S reign, and that of EDWARD VI.; but up the accession of Queen MARY he was released, and a paten dated at Richmond, 3 Sept. 1553, was issued, creating hi EARL OF DEVON. On the 10th October following, he was ful restored in blood; but as the attainder of his father w never reversed, he did not succeed to the Earldom Devon, created in the 1st HENRY VII., nor to the earldo created in the 3rd HENRY VIII., neither did he to t quessate of Exeter. His lordship had some command ppressing Wyatt's rebellion, and yet was afterwards, the Princess Elizabeth, accused of being accessory beto, and sent with her highness to the Tower. He was equently confined in Fotheringay Castle, but released ugh the interposition of Philip of Spain, upon that arch's marriage with the queen; the Lady Elizabeth g liberated through the same influence. His lordship this, obtained the queen's permission to go abroad, d. at Padua, not without suspicion of poison, 18 Sept. He d. unm., and his estates reverted to the issue of reat-aunts, and the four daus. of Sir Hugh Courtenay, oconnock, and sisters of Edward, 1st earl. At his lord- 's decease, the earldom of Devon was considered to have me extinct, and it remained dormant for no less than hundred and sixty-five years. It was, however, re- olished in another branch of the family, as heirs male he deceased lord (to which we shall now proceed), by decision of parliament, 15 March, 1831. It is clear, ever, that the Courtenays themselves never once pre- sly thought of the earldom's being in existence, or would not have accepted a baronetcy and a viscounty. e existing branch of the Courtenays was founded by Philip Courtenay, of Powderham Castle (refer to of Hugh de Courtenay, 2nd of the original Earls of n), who received the honour of knighthood from ard, the Black Prince, with his brothers Hugh and r, the day before the battle of Navaret, in Spain, and constituted in 1333, lord-lieutenant of Ireland for ten s. Lineage.

The noble family of Cavendish, of which, in the century, two branches attained dukedoms, laid the fou tions of its greatness originally on the share of Abbey la obtained, at the dissolution of the monasteries, by Sir liam Cavendish, who had been gentleman-usher to Card Wolsey, and d. in 1557; and subsequently, by the adil and the good fortune of Elizabeth, his widow, who mar George, Earl of Shrewsbury, and d. in 1607, aged eig seven. (See BURKE'S Reminiscences.) But though th arose the exalted rank and extensive possessions enj at present by the Cavendishes, be it not supposed their remote ancestors were obscure. Whether the of the name who enjoyed the lordship of Cavendish Suffolk, was or was not the son of a member of baronial family of Gernon, whom genealogists have st to have owned that estate, it is clearly ascertained that

SIR JOHN CAVENDISH, who acquired the lordshi Cavendish-Overhall, by his marriage with Alice, dau. heiress of John de Odyngseles, was chief-justice of Court of King's Bench in 1366, 1373, and 1377. In the RICHARD II., his lordship was elected chancellor of University of Cambridge, and was next year commissio with Robert de Hales, treasurer of England, to supp the insurrection raised in the city of York; in which the mob, having risen to the number of 50,000, made point, particularly in the co. of Suffolk, to plunder murder the lawyers; and being incensed in a more t ordinary degree against the Chief-Justice Cavendish, son, John, having killed the notorious Wat Tyler, t seized upon, and dragged him, with Sir John of Cambri prior of Bury, into the market-place of that town, there caused both to be beheaded. By Alice his said v he had (with a dau.) two sons,

I. Andrew (Sir), Knt., of Cavendish Overhall, M.P. Suffolk, 51 EDWARD, sheriff cos. Norfolk and Suffolk RICHARD II., d. 1396, leaving by Rose, his wife, a son,

II. JOHN, of whom hereafter.

The younger son of the judge,

SIR JOHN CAVENDISH, esquire of the body to K RICHARD II., is said to be the person who actually s Wat Tyler. "For William Walworth, mayor of Lond having arrested him, he furiously struck the mayor v agger, but being armed, hurt him not; whereupon, ayor, drawing his baselard, grievously wounded Wat e neck; in which conflict, an esquire of the king's , called John Cavendish, drew his sword, and wounded twice or thrice even unto death. For which service, dish was knighted in Smithfield, and had a grant of per annum from the king." He m. Joan, dau. of Sir am Clopton, Knt., of Clopton, and had three sons, DONEGALL, MARQUESS AND EARL OF (George-Augustus-Hamilton Chichester), Earl of Belfast, Viscount Chichester, and Baron of Belfast, in Ireland; Baron Fisherwick, of Fisherwick, co. Stafford, in Great Britain; Hereditary Lord High Admiral of Lough Neagh; b. 27 June, 1822; s. his father as 5th marquess 1889; late lieut. 6th foot; m. 31 Aug. 1865, Mary-Anne-Williams, youngest dau. of Edward Cobb, Esq. of Kensington, and Arnold, co. Kent.

Lineage.

The surname of the house of Donegal was anciently written CIRENCESTER, and the family appears to have been one of eminence in the co. Devon; quartering, according to Sir William Pole, in his MS. Survey of Devonshire, the arms of the Raleighs, the Beaumonts, the Willingtons, &c. The first who settled in Ireland was,

SIR ARTHUR CHICHESTER, Knt., 2nd son of Sir John Chichester, Knt., high-sheriff of Devonshire in 1552 and 1578, and M.P. for the same co. in 1553 and 1562, by Gertrude, dau. of Sir William Courtenay, Knt. of Powderham Castle, co. Devon (see CHICHESTER, Bart. of Raleigh). In 1603, he was sworn of the privy-council; and in 1604, appointed Lord-Deputy of Ireland, in which year he established two new circuits, sending the first justices of assize into Connaught, and reviving the circuit of Munster, which had been discontinued for more than two hundred years, so that the circuits, which had previously been confined to the English pale, thence forward included the whole kingdom; and with such effect that, in a very short time, there were not found in all the Irish counties so many capital offenders as in the six shires of the western circuit in England. Sir Arthur, in consideration of his services, military and civil, obtained considerable grants of land in the province of Ulster, and was created Baron Chichester, of Belfast, in the peerage of Ireland, 23 Feb. 1612. His lordship continued in the government of Ireland for ten years successively, and was re-appointed in July, 1613; in which year the harp of Ireland was first marshalled with the arms of England, and has since continued to be impressed upon the coin of the realm. In Nov. 1615, he retired from his high office, and was appointed, in 1616, lord-high-treasurer of Ireland. Lord Chichester chiefly resided at Carrickfergus, where he erected, in 1618, a magnificent mansion called Joymount. In 1622, he went ambassador to the palatinate, and thence to treat of a peace with the emperor. During his residence at the imperial court, being besieged in the city of Mainchina, or Manheim, by Count Tilly, he remonstrated against the violation of the law of nations in besieging an ambassador; to which Tilly replying, that he noticed not his being an ambassador; his lordship thus answered the messenger:—"Had my master sent me with as many hundred men as he hath sent me on fruitless messages, your general should have known that I had been a soldier as well as an ambassador." His lordship m. Letitia, dau. of Sir John Perrott, Knt. of Haroldston, co. Pembroke, Lord-Deputy of Ireland, widow of Vaughan Blackham, Esq.; and d. in London, 19 Feb. 1624, when, leaving no issue, the barony expired, while his large estates passed to his brother,

SIR EDWARD CHICHESTER, in whose favour the peerage was revived, with the additional honour of Viscount Chichester of Carrickfergus, 1 April, 1625. His lordship m. 1st, in 1605, Anne, dau. and heir of John Coplestone, Esq. of Eggesford, co. Devon, by whom he acquired a large estate, and had issue, Chichester, and at the express solicitation of the Marquess of Ormonde, had been elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 30 March, 1647, as EARL OF DONEGALL, with limitation to the male descendants of his father. His lordship was one of the four hostages sent by the Marquess of Ormonde, in 1647, to the English Parliament, as surety for the delivery of Dublin and other garrisons to their commissioners. After the restoration, he was governor of Carrickfergus; and in 1668, his lordship established a mathematical lecture in the University of Dublin. Lineage.

This family of Drake was founded by the celebrated Sir Francis Drake, one of the most eminent of naval heroes of the reign of Elizabeth. Born near Ta tock, in 1545, Drake attained the height he eventu achieved by his own enterprising spirit and transcend merit alone. In 1570, he made his first expedition, w two ships, the "Dragon" and the "Swan"; and next year in the "Swan" alone, wherein he returned s if not rich. And having now means sufficient to perfo greater matters, he laid before the public the plan o more important design against his enemies. This he into execution, 24 March, 1572, on which day he sailed fr Plymouth, himself in the "Pascha," of seventy tons burd and his brother, John Drake, in the "Swan," of twe five tons, their whole strength consisting of no more t seventy-three men and boys. With this inconsidera force, he attacked, on the 22nd July, the town of Nom de Dios, and took it in a few hours by storm. His u attempt was upon Vera Cruz, which he carried and pillag From this successful expedition he came back to Engl in Aug. 1573. He subsequently served as a volunteer Ireland, under Walter, Earl of Essex; and upon his retu was introduced by Sir Christopher Hatton to Queen Eli beth, when her majesty immediately took him under protection; and he was enabled, by her royal favour, undertake and accomplish, within three years, his celebra voyage round the world. In 1588, when the Spanish arm menaced the shores of England, Sir Francis Drake appointed vice-admiral, under Charles, Lord Howard Effingham, and had the good fortune to capture the gr galleon, commanded by Don Pedro de Valdez, the repu projector of the enterprise, by which himself and his cr divided 55,000 ducats. Sir Lionel Smith, Bart., G.C.B. and G.C.H. Sir George is claimant to the barony of Windesore, and is a co-heir to the barony of Aldeburg.

Lineage.

The ancient family of DUKET (or DUCKETT), derives its descent from the Norman family of the same name, which came to England at the Conquest,

RICHARD DUKET (styled also later Sir Richard Duket) was a judge in the 9th of HENRY III. A.D. 1224, and acted as such for the counties of Cambridge, Huntingdon, Bedford, Buckingham, Norfolk, Suffolk, Northampton, and Rutland. He held the manors of Fillingham, Haydore, Aisby, and others in the co. of Lincoln, and was private secretary to King John, and by him styled "Clericus noster." In 1225, he went, bearing the title of "Nuncius Regis," on a special embassy to Rome. His descendant,

RICHARD DUKET, of Grayrigg, Eversham, and Morland, in Westmorland (son and heir of John Duket and Margery his wife, sister and co-heiress of WILLIAM DE WINDESORE, BARON DE WINDESORE), m. a dau. of Sir Richard Redman, of Over Levins, Knt., and by her had issue,

II. Jean-Alice-Elaine, b. 27 Nov. 1887.

III. Marjorie-Gwendolen-Elsie, b. 18 Dec. 1889

Lineage.

This family, which derived its surname from the Barony of Cochrane, co. Renfrew, is of great antiquity in North Britain; and under the name of BLAIR, was of baronial rank many centuries previously to its attaining the honour of the peerage.

WARDEN DE COCHRANE, in the reign of ALEXANDER III., was witness to the grant made by Dungal, the son of Swaine, to Walter Cumming, Earl of Monteith, of sundry lands in the co. of Argyll; and his successor,

WILLIAM DE COCHRANE, performed homage to EDWARD I. From this person descended,

WILLIAM DE COCHRANE, who erected, from the foundation, the ancient seat of Cochrane, and ornamented it with extensive plantations. This gentleman left by his wife, Margaret, dau. of Sir Robert Montgomery, of Skelmorly, co. Ayr, an only dau.,

ELIZABETH COCHRANE, who m. Alexander, third son of John Blair, of that ilk (for pedigree of BLAIR of Blair, see BURKE'S Landed Gentry), which

ALEXANDER BLAIR assumed the surname and arms of COCHRANE. Of this marriage there were seven sons and three daus. The eldest son,

SIR JOHN COCHRANE, a col. in the army of CHARLES I., dying without issue, was s. by his brother,

SIR WILLIAM COCHRANE, Knt. of Cowdon, who was elevated to the peerage, 26 Dec. 1647, as Baron Cochrane, of Dundonald; and advanced, 12 May, 1669, to the dignity of EARL OF DUNDONALD; being at the same time created Lord Cochrane, of Paisley and Ochiltree, with remainder, in default of male issue, to the eldest of his heirs female, without division, who should bear or assume the name and arms of Cochrane, and in failure, to his heirs-general. His lordship m. Eupheme, dau. of Sir William Scott, of Ardross, co. Fife (by Jean, his wife, dau. of Sir John Skene, of Curriehill), by whom he had (with a dau., Grizel, m. to George, 10th Lord Ross),

I. WILLIAM, Lord Cochrane, who m. 1653, Lady Catherine Kennedy, 2nd dau. of John, 6th Earl of Cassilis; and dying before his father 25 Aug. 1670, left,

1 JOHN, successor to his grandfather.
2 William of Kilmarnock, m. Lady Grizel Graham, 3rd dau. of James, Marquess of Montrose; and dying in 1717, left, with five daus., one son, THOMAS, who inherited as 6th earl.

3 Thomas, of Polskelly, m. Diana, dau. and heir of Sir David Cunynghame, Bart. of Robertland; and d.s.p. 1694.
4 Alexander, of Bolinshaw, the male line of whom ceased in 1710.

1 Margaret, m. to Alexander, 9th Earl of Eglinton.
2 Helen, m. to John, 15th Earl of Sutherland.
3 Jane, m. 1st, to John, 1st Viscount Dundee; and 2ndly, to William, 3rd Viscount Kilsyth.

II. John (Sir), of Ochiltree. This gentleman having been concerned in the Rye-house plot, was compelled to seek an asylum in Holland during the remainder of the reign of CHARLES II., but afterwards invading Scotland (1685) under Argyll, his estates were confiscated; and being made prisoner with his son John, he was ignominiously conducted by the hangman, bound and bareheaded, to the Tolbooth of Edinburgh. His life was, however, spared, and his lands were restored to him after the Revolution. Sir John m. Margaret, dau. of Sir William Strickland, of Boynton, co. York (one of CROMWELL'S lords of parliament), and was s. by his elder son,

WILLIAM COCHRANE, of Ochiltree, who m. Lady Mary Bruce,* eldest dau. of Alexander, 2nd Earl of Kincardine, and heir to her brother, Alexander, 3rd earl, by whom he had nine sons and four daus. William Cochrane, of Ochiltree, was s. at his decease by his 2nd, but eldest surviving son,

CHARLES COCHRANE, of Ochiltree, and after the decease of his mother, of Culross. This gentleman d. unm. in 1752, and was s. by his brother,

JAMES COCHRANE, lieut.-gen., who m. Miss Margaret Hackison; and dying in 1758, left two daus. (Mary-Anne, m. Robert Sibthorpe, Esq., by whom she was mother of Margaret, m. to Thomas O'Reilly, Esq. of Baltrasna; and Betty, m. 1st, to Henry-Carey Hamilton, Esq. of Holycross, and 2ndly, 3 June, 1759, to Lieut.-Col. Nathaniel Gould), when the estates passed to his brother,

THOMAS COCHRANE, of whom hereafter, as 8th EARL OF DUNDONALD.

The earl d. in 1686, and was s. by his grandson,

JOHN, 2nd earl; who m. in 1684, Susannah, 2nd dau. of William and Anne, Duke and Duchess of Hamilton (she m. 2ndly, Charles, 3rd Marquess of Tweeddale, and d. 7 Feb. 1737), and dying 16 May, 1690, was s. by his elder son,

WILLIAM, 3rd earl. This nobleman d. unm. 19 Nov. 1705, when the honours devolved upon his brother,

I. Elizabeth-Katharine, m. 27 Feb. 1840, to John-Willis Fleming, Esq. of Stoneham Park, Hants; and d. at Florence, 25 Aug. 1868.

His lordship, best known as Lord Cochrane, has left a name of high distinction in our naval annals. His career was one of brilliant exploit and daring. In 1809, his destruction of the enemy's ships in the Basque Roads dealt a crushing blow to Napoleon's maritime efforts. In 1818 he served under the government of Chili and Peru, which had revolted against Spain, and his naval assistance mainly contributed to those provinces achieving their independence. His great feats in that war were his capture of Valdivia, and his cutting out the Spanish frigate "Esmeralda" from under the fortifications of Callao—a splendid act of seamanlike skill. Lord Dundonald was afterwards employed by the empire of Brazil, and there also was completely successful. He was created Marquess of Maranham, in Brazil. He d. 31 Oct. 1860, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. Rachel-Charlotte, b. 20 Feb. 1872.

III. Aileen-May, b. 9 April, 1873.

Lineage.

This is one of the few families of Celtic origin in the Irish peerage. Its ancestors, Chiefs of the Clan of Hy-Ifearnan, were seated at a very early period in a barony of the co. of Clare, which derived its name of Inchiquin from them. They were of the same stock as the O'Briens, and descended from CORMAC CAS, son of OLLIOLL OLUM, Monarch of Ireland at the opening of the 3rd century. O'Ferrall's Linea Antiqua gives a detailed pedigree of the O'Quins of Munster, deducing from three sons of DEADHA, viz., CONN MOR, MOROGH, and FLAHERTY, the three families of O'QUIN, O'DEA, and O'ROAN. A very curious and interesting letter from THADY QUIN, Esq., of Adare, J.P. temp. JAMES II., still in the possession of the Earl of Dunraven, refers to this Celtic descent, and carries up the pedigree to DONOGH QUIN, son of James Quin, of Kilmallock, and nephew of Dr. John Coyn, or Quin, Bishop of Limerick, who was, according to Ware, preferred temp. HENRY VIII. to that see, but being blind and infirm, resigned 9 April, 1551. Donogh Quin's grandson,

DONOUGH QUIN, m. Judith, heiress of the family of O'Riordan, which family had been settled for more than five centuries in co. Limerick; and d. 1671, leaving a son,

THADY QUIN, Esq. of Adare, co. Limerick, b. in 1645; who m. 1st, Bridget, dau. and heir of Andrew Rice, Esq. of Dingle, co. Kerry; 2ndly, Frances, dau. of Major Boyle Hull, son of Sir William Hull, Knt., of Leamcon, co. Cork; and 3rdly, Catharine, dau. of Piers Morony, Esq. By his last wife he had issue,

I. VALENTINE, his heir.
II. John, of Rosbrien, b. in 1692; m. in 1714, Mary, dau. of Sir Walter Blake, Bart.; and d. in 1729, leaving issue, Valentine; Constantine; Thomas; Thady. The eldest son, VALENTINE QUIN, Esq. of Rosbrien, m. Susanna Stamer, of the Carnelly family, and by her (who m. 2ndly, Taylor Croker, Esq.) had a son, JOHN, of Rosbrien (who m. Mary, dau. of Sir Edward O'Brien, Bart. of Dromoland, and left an only child, Mary, who m. Matthew O'Brien, Esq., and d. s. p.), and a dau., Mary, who m. John Goold, Esq., and had, with other issue, a son, THOMAS GOOLD, Esq. of Merrion Square, Dublin, a master in chancery, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of the Rev. Lineage.

bert of Montgomery (believed to be descended from er of Mundegumbri, one of the Norman nobles who mpanied William the Conqueror, and who was made of Shrewsbury), obtained from Walter, 1st High vard of Scotland, in the latter half of the 12th century, lands of Eaglesham in Renfrewshire. His descendant, hn Montgomery, of Eaglesham, distinguished himself ie battle of Otterburn (1388), capturing Sir Henry Percy tspur) who for his ransom had to build the castle of ioon in the barony of Eaglesham. He m. Elizabeth,
. and heir (by his wife Egidia Stewart, half-sister of g Robert II. and widow of Sir James Lindsay of vford), of Sir Hugh Eglinton of that ilk, descendant representative of Bryce Eglinton, who acquired certain ls from the community of Irvine, which were re-granted is grandson Rodolph in 1205. By this marriage John tgomery acquired the baronies of Eglinton and rossan, and had issue John, his successor, and xander, who acquired from his mother the lands of nington in the barony of Ratho in 1387. According to ballad of "Chevy Chase," he had also a son, Hugh,

Dorset, and had three sons and two daus. Eventually, through the influence of the Lord Treasurer, Burghley, that nobleman employed him in the management of those state affairs which required the greatest trust and secrecy. Thus he continued till the year 1586, when, whilst the court of Spain was meditating the armada, an English ship succeeded in taking from a Spanish vessel letters from the Low Countries, which, by intimations from abroad, were known to contain the secret. Those letters being brought to Lord Burghley, were laid by his lordship before Queen ELIZABETH in council; but the contents being in cipher, the lord-treasurer proposed that the papers should be entrusted to this Richard Perceval, who returned them the next day after they were placed in his hand to her majesty in person, deciphered, translated, and fairly transcribed in Spanish, Latin, and English. This was the first certain intelligence of the Spanish design, and Perceval was admitted instantly into the queen's favour, and from that moment his road to honour and fortune was open and unimpeded. Having subsequently filled the office of secretary of the Court of Wards in England, for several years, he was nominated, in 1616, registrar of the Court of Wards in Ireland, where after obtaining considerable landed property, he d. in 1620, and was s. by his son (by his 2nd wife, Alice, dau. of John Sherman, Esq. of Ottery St. Mary's, co. 2 Magdalene, m. Sir John Arnot, of Fernie.
3 Mary, m. 1655, David, Lord Cardross.

The elder son,

Sir Edward Bruce, of Carnock, was created Earl of Kincardine and Lord Bruce of Torry, to him and his heirs male, by patent, dated 26 Dec. 1647; dying unm. in 1662, his estates and honours devolved on his brother,

Alexander, 2nd Earl of Kincardine, a prominent statesman after the Restoration, made, 10 July, 1667, an extra lord of session, and one of the King's commissioners for the government of Scotland, but dismissed from the King's councils by the influence of Lauderdale. He m. 16 June, 1659, Veronica (who d. 28 April, 1701), dau. of Corneille-Van-Arson-Van Sommelsdyck, Lord of Sommelsdyck and Spyck, in Holland, by whom he had issue,

Dying 9 July, 1680, he was s. by his only surviving son, Alexander, 3rd Earl of Kincardine, on whose death, in Nov. 1705, his sister, Lady Mary Cochrane, claimed by a declarator in the court of session, the honours as against the heir male, Sir Alexander Bruce, of Broomhall (see above, descendants of Robert, 3rd son of Sir George Bruce, of Carnock), her claim being based on a resignation in her favour by the late earl not completed by a Crown charter (but which it was legally held to be in the power of the Crown to accept and complete), and also involving the question of the late earl's sanity. No final judgment was pronounced on the latter question, and protests were made by Lady Mary at the elections of 1707, 1708, and 1710, but the Queen not having interfered (which it has been held that the sovereign was not entitled to do after the Union), the right of the heir male must be held to have become indisputable.

Alexander, 4th earl of Kincardine, who thus succeeded, had previously been representative in parliament for Sanquhar, and was allowed to sit as earl pending Lady Mary's action. Debts and litigations necessitated the sale of Carnock, which was bought by the Hon. Col. John Erskine, cousin german of the 1st earl (see Buchan, E.). He m. Christian, dau. of Robert Bruce, of Blairhall, by whom he had,

v. Christian, m. 28 April, 1762, James Erskine, of Cardross (see Buchan, E.), and d. 28 May, 1810.

iv. William, a priest in Kinloss Abbey, d. 1609.

The second son of Edward Bruce, of Blairhall,

Sir Edward Bruce, b. 1548, was made commendator of Kinloss Abbey, 1593, and a lord of session, 2 Dec. 1597. On 2 Feb. 1601, he had on his resignation a charter of Kinloss, with the title of free baron and lord of parliament as Lord Kinloss, with remainder to his heirs and assignees. He was ambassador to England in 1598 and 1601, and accompanied King James to England in 1603, when the manor of Whorlton and part of the possessions of Jervaux Abbey was conferred on him, and he was made a naturalized English subject and master of the rolls. On 3 May, 1608, he had a grant under the Great Seal of Scotland (without any resignation), of Kinloss, as a temporal barony with the title of Lord Bruce, of Kinloss, with remainder to heirs male of his body, whom failing, to his heirs and assignees. Dying 14 Jan. 1610, he was s. by his son,

Edward, 2nd Lord Kinloss, and Lord Bruce of Kinloss, K.B., 1610, and a gentleman of the king's bedchamber. He was killed in Holland in Aug. 1613, in a duel with Sir Edward Sackville, afterwards Earl of Dorset. Being unm. he was s. by his brother,

Thomas, 3rd Lord Kinloss and Lord Bruce of Kinloss, b. 2 Dec. 1599. Attending Charles I. to Scotland in 1633, he was on 21 June of that year created Earl of Elgin and Lord Bruce of Kinloss, with remainder to his heirs male for ever, bearing the name and arms of Bruce. On 1 Aug. 1641 he was made a peer of England as Baron Bruce of Whorlton, co. York, to him and the heirs male of his body. He m. 1st, 4 July, 1622, Anne (who d. 20 March, 1627), dau. of Sir Robert Chichester, of Raleigh, co. Devon, by whom he had a son and successor, Robert; 2ndly, Diana (who d. 26 Feb. 1658), dau. and co-heir of William, Earl of Exeter, and widow of Henry, Earl of Oxford. Dying 21 Dec. 1663, he was s. by his son, Robert, 2nd Earl of Elgin. He was in his father's lifetime lord-lieutenant of Bedfordshire, M.P. for that county in the Convention Parliament and the Long Parliament, and a privy councillor and gentleman of the king's bedchamber, also one of the commissioners for the office of earl marshal, and lord chamberlain of the household. On 14 March, 1664, he was created Baron Bruce of Skelton, co. York, Viscount Bruce of Ampthill, in Bedfordshire, and Earl of Ailesbury, in Buckinghamshire, in the peerage of England. Lineage.

SIR THOMAS EGERTON, b. in 1540 (the illegitimate son, by Alice Sparke, of Richard Egerton, son and heir of Sir Ralph Egerton, of Ridley), having been brought up to the Bar, arrived at the highest honours of his profession, and filled, during the reign of ELIZABETH, successively, the important offices of attorney and solicitor-general, master of the rolls, and Lord Keeper of the great seal. Upon the accession of JAMES I., Sir Thomas was appointed lord high chancellor of England, and elevated to the peerage (21 July, 1603), as Baron of Ellesmere, in the county of Salop; and further advanced, 7 Nov. 1616, to the dignity of Viscount Brackley. His lordship m. thrice, but had issue by the first marriage only (to Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Ravenscroft, Esq. of Bretton, co. Flint). He d. 15 March, 1616–17, in the 77th year of his age, having received an intimation, immediately before his decease, that it was his majesty's intention to confer upon him the dignity of an earl, and an accompanying pension. This learned and distinguished nobleman was s. by his son,

JOHN, 2nd viscount, K.B., who was created, 27 May, 1617, Earl of Bridgewater. His lordship was appointed lord president of Wales, and the marches thereof, 12 May, 1633; and to this appointment the world is indebted for Milton's immortal masque of Comus. He m. Frances, 2nd dau. and co-heiress of Ferdinando, 5th Earl of Derby, and dying in 1649, was s. by his only surviving son,

JOHN, 2nd earl; who m. Elizabeth, 2nd dau. of William Cavendish, Duke of Newcastle, and d. 26 Oct. 1686, leaving numerous issue, of whom,

I. JOHN, the eldest, succeeded.

ELPHINSTONE.

ELPHINSTONE, BARON (Sidney-Herbert Elphinstone), of Elphinstone, co. Stirling, in Scotland; Baron Elphinstone of Elphinstone, in the United Kingdom, b. 27 July, 1869, s. his father as 16th baron 1893.

Lineage.

The family of Elphinstone took this surname from the lands so named in Lothian, which they held in the 14th and 15th centuries from the Setons. In the reign of David II. they came into possession of part of Erth or Airth in Stirlingshire. In 1362 Alexander Elphinstone of that ilk gave certain lands in Stanehouse, which his father had acquired from Godfrey of Ross, to Alexander More, in exchange for part of Erthbeg. Sir William Elphinstone of that ilk had in 1399 a charter to himself and his issue male with remainder to his brothers, of the lands which he held from Sir William Lindsay of Byres. He had two sons, Alexander and William. The elder son, Alexander Elphinstone of that ilk, was killed in a border raid at Piperden in Northumberland in 1436, leaving a dau. Janet, m. to Sir Gilbert Johnston, who s. to Elphinstone in

Lothian, while the Stirlingshire estates passed to Alexander's brother, Sir Henry Elphinstone of Pittendreich. Sir Henry's grandson and successor, John Elphinstone, of Pittendreich, had charters of Erth, Cragorth (Craigforth), and the other Stirlingshire lands in 1496 and 1497, and in 1503 these were resigned by Patrick Lord Lindsay of the Byres to be held by Elphinstone of the Crown, and incorporated by charter under the designation of the barony of Elphinstone. He d. in 1508 or 1509.

Alexander Elphinstone of that ilk, his son and heir, was in his father's lifetime attached to the household of James IV., m. Elizabeth Berlay, an English lady attached to the household of Queen Margaret, and had in 1507 and 1508 various grants of large portions of the Earldoms of Mar and Garioch, including Kildrummy with the custody of the castle, the lands first conferred being united into the barony of Innernochty. On 14 Jan. 1509-10, at the christening of Prince Arthur, he was made a Lord of Parliament as Lord Elphinstone; and in 1513 the above-mentioned possessions were re-granted to him and his wife, erected into the barony of Kildrummy. Lord Elphinstone fell at Flodden 1513; and his widow re-married John, 6th Lord Forbes. His son and heir,

ALEXANDER, 2nd lord, fell at Pinkie, 10 Sept. 1547, having m. Katherine, dau. of Robert, 3rd Lord Erskine, and had,

I. Robert, his successor.
II. John, parson of Innernochty.

I. Alexander, his successor.
II. Sir James, of Innernochty and Barnton, a Lord of Session, 1586; one of the "Octavians," 1595, and Secretary of State, 1598. The lands of the Abbey of Balmerino were erected into a temporal lordship in favour of him and his heirs male and of entail in the lands of Barnton, with the title of Lord Balmerino, by charter dated 20 Feb. 1602-3, ratified by a later charter 20 Dec. 1607, granted under authority of an Act of Parliament. In 1605 he became President of the Court of Session. In 1609 he was convicted of treason, and attainted for surreptitiously obtaining the King's signature to a letter addressed to Pope Clement VIII. He d. 1612, having m. 1st, Sarah, dau. of Sir John Mentcith, of Kerse, by whom he had a son,

John, 2nd lord Balmerino, who obtained a remission under the Great Seal of his father's forfeiture 4 Aug. 1613. He was active on the side of the covenant, and his trial and conviction in connexion with the "supplication" of 1633, though followed by a pardon, proved fatal to King Charles's cause in Scotland. He m. 1613 Anne, dau. of Sir Thomas Ker, of Fernyhurst; and their son, John, 3rd lord Balmerino, who s. to the title of his uncle Lord Coupar, had, by Margaret, dau. of John, Earl of Loudoun, John, 4th Lord, father of John, 5th, and Arthur; 6th lords, the latter of whom was attainted and executed for his participation in the rebellion of 1745, s. p.

Sir Laurence Esmonde, commanded, in 1601-2, a [band] of 150 foot and horse in Elizabeth's service, was kni[ghted] by Sir Henry Sydney, the lord-deputy, served in [Con]naught, and was raised to the peerage, in 1622 (bei[ng] the time major-general of all the king's forces in Ire[land] and governor of Duncannon Fort), as Lord Esm[onde] Baron of Limerick, co. Wexford. During one of his [cam]paigns in Connaught, he married a sister of O'Flah[erty] and had one son, Thomas. It happened, however, [that] Lady Esmonde, a devout Roman Catholic, fearing [for] her child might be brought up a Protestant, fo[rmed] the resolution of carrying off the infant by stealth [and] returning to her family in Connaught. This act of mat[ernal] devotion appears to have been not at all disagreeable t[o] Laurence, as affording him a pretext for casting susp[icion] on the legality of his union, that of a Protestant w[ife] Catholic: yet, without resorting to legal measures to s[ever]

THOMAS ESMONDE, 1st baronet. The severity and ity of his case created considerable interest; and scarce a doubt that, but for the melancholy state war, usurpation, and destruction of property, at that and upon legal investigation into the matter and the ying circumstances, the conduct of Lord Esmonde his lady, and the legality of his lordship's second (his first undivorced wife still living), Sir Thomas e's right of succession to his father's peerage could to have been acknowledged. Before, however, that ve taken place, Sir Thomas died, and his successor ccupy himself with entering into possession of his her's property. Sir Thomas Esmonde, as already was reared and educated with his maternal re- and upon his uncle being raised in the peerage dignity of Viscount Bourke of Mayo, by privy-seal, Westminster, 8 Feb. 1626. and by patent, 21 June, r Thomas, who had already been knighted for his services in the cause of royalty, as general of the armies of CHARLES I. was created, through yo's influence, a few months later (28 Jan. 1628), NET OF IRELAND. Lineage.

Richard Fairfax, of Walton, living temp. Henry VI., m. Eustachia, dau. and heir of John Carthorpe, and by her (who m. 2ndly Thomas Ridley, Esq.) had, with other issue,

I. William, of Walton, whose descendant Sir Thomas Fairfax, of Walton, was created 1629, Viscount Fairfax, of Emeley.
II. Brian. III. Guy.

The 3rd son,

Sir Guy Fairfax, of Steeton, was appointed a justice of the court of King's Bench, 1478. This learned person m. Isabel, dau. of Sir William Ryther, of Ryther, and dying in 1495 was s. at Steeton Castle, co. York, which he had erected, by his eldest son,

Sir William, one of the justices of the Common Pleas in the reign of Henry VIII. His lordship m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir Robert Manners, Knt., ancestor of the Duke of Rutland, and was s. at his decease by his only son,

Sir William, in 1514 high-sheriff of Yorkshire, 16th and 31st of Henry VIII. He m. 1518, Isabel, dau. and heir of John Thwaits, Esq. of Denton Castle, Yorkshire, by whom he acquired that seat, and was s. at his decease 1557 by his eldest surviving son,

Sir Thomas Fairfax, of Denton who served the office of sheriff for the co. York in 1571. Sir Thomas m. Dorothy, dau. of George Gale, Esq. of Asham Grange, and widow of John Rokeby, Esq., and had, besides two daus., Thomas; Edward, of Newhall, a poet; Charles (Sir), col. in the army, killed at the siege of Ostend. Sir Thomas d. 1599 and was s. by his son,

Sir Thomas Fairfax, Knt. of Denton Castle, who was created a peer of Scotland, 18 Oct. 1627, as Baron Fairfax of Cameron. His lordship m. in 1582, Ellen, dau. of Robert Aske, Esq., and was s. at his decease 1640 by his eldest son, Ferdinando, 2nd baron, b. 29 March, 1584. This nobleman, at the beginning of the civil war, was the parliamentary general for York, and became eminently distinguished. After defeating the Earl of Newcastle in 1642, Lord Byron, in 1643, and Col. Bellasis (whom he took prisoner) in April, 1644, at Selby, he had the chief command at the battle of Marston Moor, in the July of the same year, and there, routing the royal army under Prince Rupert, he took possession of the city of York as governor. His lordship m. 1st, 1607, Lady Mary Sheffield, dau. of Edmund, 1st Earl of Mulgrave; and 2ndly, 1646, Rhoda, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Chapman, Esq. of London and widow of Thomas Hussey, Esq.; by the former of whom he had three sons and six daus.,* and was s. at his decease, in 1647, by his eldest son and companion in arms,

Thomas, 3rd baron, b. 17 Jan. 1612; who had distinguished himself as a republican military leader, as Sir Thomas Fairfax. He was a participator in the victory obtained by his father at Selby, and commanded the right wing of the parliamentarians at Marston Moor. In the 34th year of his age he was appointed general-in-chief of the parliament's armies, and soon after routed the King at Naseby, retook Leicester, beat Col. Goring, took Bridgewater, Dartmouth, Bristol, defeated Lord Hopton, forced the Prince of Wales to retire into France, and then, reducing the entire of the West, drove the King from Oxford, in May, 1646, in which year he was made governor of the Tower of London. After succeeding to the barony, he reduced Colchester; but he took no part in the subsequent proceedings of the independents, and was entirely free of any participation in the death of the king. In 1650, he resigned the command of the army to Cromwell; and nine years afterwards, his lordship, coalescing with Monk, assisted zealously in restoring the monarchy, and was one of the commissioners deputed, upon that occasion, to the king. Soon after this event, Lord Fairfax represented the co. of York in parliament; but passed the latter end of his life in rural retirement. His lordship m. 20 June, 1637, Anne, dau. and co-heir of Sir Horatio Vere,

* Dorothy, one of the daus., m. Richard Hutton, Esq. of Popleton, Yorkshire.

HENRY, 4th baron; grandson of the 1st lord, through his 2nd son, the Hon. and Rev. Henry Fairfax, of Oglethorpe, co. York, by Mary, dau. of Sir Henry Cholmley. This nobleman, b. 20 Dec. 1631, m. Frances, dau. and heir of Sir Robert Barwick, of Tolston, Yorkshire, by whom he left two sons,

I. THOMAS, his successor.
II. Henry, of Tolston, co. York; m. Anne, dau. and co-heir of Richard Harrison, Esq., and had, with other issue,

1 HENRY, who d. s. p. in 1759.
2 WILLIAM, who settled in New England, whence he removed to Virginia, and became manager of his cousin's (Lord Fairfax) estates there. He m. 1st, in 1724, Sarah, dau. of Major Thomas Walker, chief justice of the Bahama Islands, by whom he had issue, William-George, of Belvoir, Fairfax co., Virginia. d. s. p. 1787; Thomas, R.N., killed in action with the French (s. p.) 1746; Anne, m. 1st 1743, to Lawrence, brother of Gen. Washington, and 2ndly, to George Lee, of Virginia; Sarah, m. to John Carlisle, of Alexandria, Virginia. Mr. William Fairfax m. 2ndly, Deborah Clarke, of Salem, Massachusetts, by whom he had issue, BRYAN, a clergyman, s. as 8th baron; William, killed at Quebec under Gen. Wolfe, 1759 (unm.); Hannah, m. to Warner Washington, cousin to Gen. Washington.

His lordship d. in 1685, and was s. by his elder son,

THOMAS, 5th baron; b. 16 Feb. 1657; col. in the guards, and M.P. for the co. of York, which seat he was obliged to relinquish at the union, upon ceasing to be a commoner in England. His lordship m. Catherine, dau. and heir of Thomas, Lord Colepepper, by whom he had,

I. THOMAS, his successor.
II. Henry-Colepepper, d. unm. in 1734.
III. Robert, who s. as 7th lord.
I. Margaret, m. 1725 to the Rev. David Wilkins, D.D., prebendary of Canterbury.
II. Frances, m. to Denny Martin, Esq.; and dying 1791, left,

1 DENNY MARTIN, in holy orders, who inherited at the decease of his uncle, Robert, 7th lord, Leeds Castle, and the other estates in Kent, when he assumed the name of Fairfax. He d. s. p. in 1800.
2 PHILIP MARTIN, lieut.-gen. in the army; who inherited from his brother Leeds Castle, and assumed the name of FAIRFAX. He d. unm. in 1821, when Leeds Castle passed to the representative of his aunt and heir-at-law, FIENNES WYKEHAM MARTIN, Esq.

The baron was s. 6 Jan. 1709-10, by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 6th baron, b. 1692. This nobleman inherited from his mother a considerable fortune, consisting of several manors in Kent, estates in the Isle of Wight, and a tract of land in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, comprised within the boundaries of the rivers Potomack and Rappahannock, containing, by estimation, 5,700,000 acres. From his father he inherited Denton Hall and other property in Yorkshire, but he was obliged by his mother and grandmother to dispose of those in order to redeem the Colepepper manors. His lordship had a commission in the horse guards, but visiting his American estates about the year 1739, was so captivated with the soil, climate, and beauties of Virginia, that he resolved to spend the remainder of his life there; and he soon after erected two mansions, Belvoir and Greenway Court, where he continued ever afterwards to reside in a state of baronial hospitality. His dress was plain and simple, his manners modest and unaffected, and his style of living magnificent. Such was his generosity, that he gave up his English estates to his brother Robert, and the surplus of his American income was distributed among his poor neighbours. His principal amusement was hunting; and after the chase he was wont to invite the whole field to partake of his hospitality. He had been educated in revolutionary principles, and had imbibed high notions of republican liberty. He was lieut. and custos rotolorum of Frederick County, and presided at the provincial courts of Winchester (U.S.), where, during the session, he kept an open table. His lordship d. unm., at Greenway Court, in 1782, when the title devolved upon his only surviving brother,

Lineage.

This is a very ancient family, deriving its surname from the lordship and manor of Boscawen-Rose, co. Cornwall, possessed since the reign of King JOHN.

JOHN DE BOSCAWEN, who s. to that inheritance in 1234, m. Johan, dau. and heir of John de Tregothnan, of Tregothnan, with whom he acquired that estate, and dying in 1357, was s. by his elder son,

JOHN DE BOSCAWEN, who m. Johan, dau. and heir of Otho de Abalanda; from this John we pass to his descendant,

HUGH BOSCAWEN, of Tregothnan, who paid a fine of four marks for not attending the coronation of Queen MARY, 1 Oct. 1553. He m. Philippa, dau. and co-heir of Nicholas Carminow, Esq. of Carminow, and had issue: the 3rd son, NICHOLAS BOSCAWEN, eventually continued the line, m. Alice, dau. and co-heir of John Trevanion, Esq. of Trevanion; and dying 1626, was s. by his only son,

HUGH BOSCAWEN, Esq. of Tregothnan, M.P. for the co. Cornwall, who m. Margaret, dau. of Robert Rolle, Esq. of Heanton-Satchville, Devon, and had eight sons and three daus., of whom the eldest son,

I. NICHOLAS BOSCAWEN, Esq., s. his father. This gentleman joined the parliamentarian army with a regiment of horse raised from amongst his own tenantry. He d. s. p., when the estates devolved upon his next brother,

II. HUGH BOSCAWEN, Esq., who m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Theophilus Clinton, Earl of Lincoln, by whom he had eight sons, who all d. issueless, and two daus., the younger of whom,

BRIDGET, m. to Hugh Fortescue, Esq. of Filleigh, in Devonshire, became eventually sole heir.

The male line of the elder sons drawing thus to a close, we proceed with the 5th son (continuator of the family),

EDWARD BOSCAWEN, Esq., member of the Restoration parliament. This gentleman m. Jael, dau. of Sir Francis Godolphin, K.B., and had issue, HUGH, his heir; Anne, m. to Sir John Evelyn, Bart.; and Dorothy, m. to Sir Philip Medows. Mr. Boscawen dying in 1685, was s. by his eldest son,

HUGH BOSCAWEN, Esq., warden of the Stannaries, who was made comptroller of the household, and sworn of the privy-council in 1714, and created, 9 June, 1720, Baron of Boscawen-Rose and VISCOUNT FALMOUTH. He m. 23 April, 1700, Charlotte, elder dau. and co-heir of Charles Godfrey, Esq., and niece, maternally, of the great Duke of Marlborough, by whom (who d. 22 March, 1754) he had issue,

I. HUGH, his successor.

He m. 3rdly, 5 April 1893, Isabella-Elizabeth, widow of Charles-Hugh Hoare, Esq. of Morden, Surrey, and dau. of the late Rev. Thomas Twysden, formerly rector of Charlton, Devon. Sir James, who served with the Gren. gds. in the Crimea, was wounded at Inkerman. He was lieut.-col. comm. 4th batt. royal Scots fusiliers, 1858–73.

Lineage.

Fergus Fergusson had a crown charter of Kilkerran, Ayrshire, in 1466, on the resignation of his father, John Fergusson.

Duncan Fergusson, of Kilkerran, appears on record, 1508—1547, and

Bernard Fergusson, of Kilkerran, 1564—1600. Bernard's son, by his wife, Elizabeth Adair, Simon Fergusson, of Kilkerran, d. 1591, having m. Christian, dau. of Forrester, of Carden. His son, Sir John Fergusson, of Kilkerran, suffered much for his attachment to the cause of Charles I., and was dead before 1650. He m. Helen, dau. of Sir John Kennedy, of Colzeane, and widow of John Mure, of Auchendrane, and had, with other issue, I. Alexander, whose son, Alexander, sold Kilkerran to his cousin, the 1st baronet, and whose male line ended with John, of Underwood, son of the younger Alexander. II. Simon, of Auchinwind, near Maybole, who, by his wife, Jean Crawford, had a son, John, of whom as 1st baronet.

I. John Fergusson, son of Simon Fergusson, of Auchinwind, as above, having acquired great reputation, and its accompaniment, opulence, as an advocate, advanced the necessary funds for clearing the estate of Kilkerran, and was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 30 Nov. 1703, with remainder to heirs male of his body. Sir John m. Jean, dau. of James Whitefoord, Esq. of Dunduff, and was s. at his decease, in 1729, by his eldest son, George, lord of Session, as Lord Hermand.

Sir James, who represented Sutherland in parliament, was s. at his decease, 20 Jan. 1759, by his eldest surviving son,

III. Sir Adam, LL.D., who represented the co. Ayr for eighteen years in parliament, and the city of Edinburgh for four; in all, from 1774 to 1796. Upon the death of John, Earl of Glencairn, in 1796, Sir Adam Fergusson preferred a claim before the House of Lords to the honours of that noble family, as lineal descendant of, and heir-general to Alexander, created Earl of Glencairn in 1488, and to Alexander, Earl of Glencairn, who d. in 1670, through the latter nobleman's only dau. (Sir Adam's great-grandmother), Lady Margaret Cunningham, wife of John, Earl of Lauderdale, and mother of James, Lord Maitland; but the Lords decided, "that although Sir Adam Fergusson has shown himself to be heir-general to Alexander, Earl of Glencairn (who d. in 1670), he hath not made out the right of such heir to the dignity of Earl of Glencairn." Sir Adam dying 23 Sept. 1813, without issue, the title devolved upon his nephew,

IV. Sir James, b. 20 Oct. 1765; m. 1st, 8 Oct. 1799, Jean, 2nd dau. of Sir David Dalrymple, Bart., Lord Hailes, by Helen, his wife, dau. of Sir James Fergusson, Bart., FERRERS.

Ferrers, Earl (Sir Sewallis-Edward Shirley, M.A.), Viscount Tamworth, and a baronet, D.L. cos. Leicester and Stafford, b. 24 Jan. 1847; s. his father as 10th earl, 1859; m. 24 Oct. 1885, Lady Ina-Maude White, dau. of the 3rd Earl of Bantry (see Peerages recently Extinct).

Lineage.

The very ancient and honourable family of Shirley has had the good fortune to have been illustrated by an historical narrative, compiled by a distinguished member of its own house. Sir Thomas Shirley, of Botolph's Bridge, composed three distinct MS. histories of the Shirleys, all of which are preserved in the British Museum, and in our own time, the late Mr. Evelyn-Philip Shirley, of Ettington and Lough Fea, a very learned and accomplished archæologist, wrote a comprehensive and able memoir of his illustrious house, under the title of "Stemmata Shirliana." From these authorities it appears that the Shirleys derive descent from Sasuallo or Sewallus de Etingdon whose name (says Dugdale, in his Antiquities of Warwickshire) argues him to be of the old English stock. He resided at Nether-Etingdon, in the co. Warwick, about the reign of King Edward the Confessor, which place had been the seat of his ancestors, as there is reason to believe, for many generations before that period.

After the Conquest, the lordship of Etingdon was given to Henry, Earl of Ferrars, in Normandy, who was one of the principal adventurers with the Norman Duke William, and was held under him by this Sewallus, with whose posterity, in the male line, it has continued to the present reign, the late Hon. George Shirley, who d. in 1787, having been owner thereof. This long continuance of ownership is mentioned by Dugdale, who says, in his Warwickshire, that Etingdon is the only place in the county which could glory in an uninterrupted succession of its owners for so long a space of time.

As appears by Kenilworth Register, Sewallus de Etingdon, before mentioned, founded and endowed the church of Nether-Etingdon. That he was an eminent man, is obvious from his large possessions in the counties of Warwick, Lincoln, Northampton, and Derby, in the time of the Conqueror, few being allowed at that change to enjoy more than a part of their estates, and even obliged to hold that portion by military and other services, from their new lords. Therefore, if we may guess of his authority by the extent of his estate, which amounted to seventeen hides of land in this place only, he must have been no less than a Thane in the time of the Saxons, which was the same degree of honour among them as a Baron or Peer of England after the Norman Conquest; for, as the learned Selden observes, little more than five hides of land was an estate for some who were so dignified. He d. about 1085, and was s. by his only child,

Fulcher, who d. about 1105, leaving issue,

I. Sewallis, his heir.

Lineage.

The title of Knight of Kerry is of a very peculiar character, and, though not a regal honour, has been held as a prescriptive right from mediæval times, and at various periods recognized by the Crown. The ancestor of this line of the Geraldines, JOHN FITZTHOMAS FITZGERALD, Lord of Decies and Desmond, by virtue of his royal seignory as a Count Palatine, created three of his sons by his second marriage, hereditary knights, and thus originated the titles of the White Knight, the Knight of Glyn, and the Knight of Kerry.

According to the pedigree of the Knights of Kerry, drawn out by BETHAM, Ulster, the descent is as follows,

MAURICE FITZGERALD, the third son of John FitzThomas, Lord of Decies and Desmond, by Honora, his second wife, was the 1st Knight of Kerry. His son,

JOHN FITZGERALD, Knight of Kerry, was father of

RICHARD FITZGERALD, Knight of Kerry, father of

MAURICE FITZGERALD, Knight of Kerry, Lord of Rathanan and Inismore, who was father of

NICHOLAS FITSGERALD, Knight of Kerry, whose son,

JOHN FITZGERALD, Knight of Kerry, called the Blind Bishop of Ardfert, living 1405, was father of

SIR MAURICE FITZGERALD, Knight of Kerry, m. and had three sons; the eldest of whom, SIR MAURICE FITZGERALD, Knight of Kerry, is styled in a record, "Domino Mauritio Militi de Kerry," 12 HENRY VII.; the 2nd, JOHN, was father of WILLIAM, heir to his uncle; and Robert, of Alloone, whose eventual representative, Joan Fitzgerald, m. Sir Gerald Aylmer, Bart.

SIR WILLIAM FITZGERALD, son of John, s. his uncle, Sir Maurice. He was father of

JOHN FITZGERALD, of Rathanan and Inismore, Knight of Kerry, who settled his estates on his heirs male, by deed, dated 8 Jan. 1573. By Shela, his wife, dau. of O'Sullivan More, he left a son and successor,

WILLIAM FITZGERALD, of Rathanan, Knight of Kerry, m. Mary, dau. of Charles O'Conor, of Derrymullen, Kings co., and d. 6 Nov. 1640. leaving, inter alios, a son and heir,

He m. 2ndly, 1888, Ellen-Creagh, dau. of Crofton-Hamilton Fitzgerald, Esq.

Lineage.

This is a very ancient branch of the noble and illustrious race of the GERALDINES, seated at an early period at the Castle of Pallice, in the county of Limerick. Family tradition relates that the descendant of that family and the direct ancestor of the Carrygoran Fitzgeralds was instrumental in saving the life of King Charles at the battle of Naseby. Of the Clare family there were two branches, the representative of one, that of Moigh Castle and Six Mile Bridge viz., COL. AUGUSTINE FITZGERALD, d. in 1776, having devised the reversion of his property to his kinsmen, of Carrygoran. The estate of Carrygoran, was acquired by EDWARD FITZGERALD, Esq. of Rynana, co. Clare, (of the Pallice line), in 1667, from Col. Daniel O'Brien, afterwards Viscount Clare. His son and heir,

JOHN FITZGERALD, Esq. of Carrygoran, m. (contract dated 1 May, 1680) the Hon. Ellen Butler, dau. of Pierce, 2nd Viscount Ikerrin, who was son of the Hon. James Butler, by Ellen his wife, dau. of Edmund, 3rd Lord Dunboyne, and grandson of Pierce, 1st Viscount Ikerrin, by Lady Ellen Butler, his wife, daughter of Walter, 11th Earl of Ormonde. Lady Ellen Butler, Viscountess Ikerrin, was fourth in descent from the marriage of Pierce Butler, 8th Earl of Ormonde, and Lady Margaret Fitzgerald, his wife, 2nd dau. of Gerald, 8th Earl of Kildare.

John Fitzgerald, of Carrygoran, whose will was proved Sept. 1, 1725, left by his wife, the Hon. Ellen Butler, besides several daus., three sons, viz.: 1 Edward, d. unm.; 2 JAMES, his heir; and 3 Charles, of Castlekeale (Shepperton), co. Clare, m. Alice, dau. of Raleigh Colpoys, Esq., and was ancestor of the FITZGERALDS, now of Shepperton, co. Clare. The second, but eldest son to survive,

JAMES FITZGERALD, Esq. of Carrygoran, m. Anne, 3rd dau. of George Hickman, of Ballyket, and had issue, 1 John, d. young; 2 EDWARD, his heir; 1 Eleanor, m. to Hugh Massy, Esq. of Stoneville, co. Limerick; 2 Elizabeth, m. 1752, to Andrew Creagh, Esq. of Cahirbane; and 3 Alice, m. 1758, to Giles Vandeleur, Esq. of Ralahine, co. Clare. The only son to survive,

COL. EDWARD FITZGERALD, of Carrygoran, M.P. for co. Clare, and colonel of volunteers, 1782. He m. 1st, 1762, Rachel, dau. of Standish Grady, Esq. of Elton, and sister of the Countess of Ilchester, and by her had issue, rd Clermont, in his History of the Fortescues, fully s to the origin of the noble house of which he was a dis-ished scion. The venerable and almost uniform tradi-is as follows:—"Sir Richard le Fort, a very strong a Norman knight, and cupbearer to the Duke of Nor-ly, landed in England with his master in the year and fighting in the great battle of Hastings, saved the e, who had three horses killed under him, from some peril, protecting him with his shield from the blows assailant. In allusion to this deed of valour, Richard, re named Le Fort, under which name, as Fort or Forz, ppears in Grafton's and Holinshed's copies of the Rolls attle Abbey, was thenceforward known as "Richard le -Escu," or the Strong Shield, "which surname," says nshed, "is deduced from the strength of his shield, reof that familie had first originall." The son of this nt warrior,

ADAM FORTESCUE, Knt., being also a participator in the conflict, obtained, it is stated, from the successful arch a grant of Wymondeston, or, as it is now written, Winston, co. Devon, of which he became Lord. The son of Sir Adam, Ralph, living, A.D. 1135, his son Richard, and his grandson, also Richard, are shown by a deed still extant at Eton College, to have each granted lands to Modbury Priory, near Winston. The descendant of this Sir Adam,

WILLIAM FORTESCUE, of Winston, living 1406, m. Elizabeth, sister and co-heir of Thomas Beauchamp, of Ryme, co. Dorset, and widow of Richard Branscomb, by whom he left two sons, Frederick Peel, M. Vicar of Little Malvern, co. Worcester (see P Bart.), and has issue, HENRY-RAINOLD, b. 30 Dec. 1895.

Lineage.

The SIRE DE GAUGI is named on the Roll of Battle A among those who fought at Hastings, and appears to hav rived his name from the seignory of Gaugy, near Roue Normandy. RALPH DE GAUGI paid his aid as tenant in ca towards marrying the king's daughter in 1166. His son, bert, was a strong adherent of King JOHN in his wars with barons. He obtained Thornton and Langester, in the bish of Durham, by marriage with Beatrice, dau. and heir of Ro Lovel, by whom he had two sons, Ralph, the eldest, d. 1 whose son, of the same name, d. 1279; and his successor, A DE GAUGI, dying s. p. in 1287, the estates passed to the Cliffords.

WILLIAM DE GAUGE, 2nd son of Robert, was made const of Caermarthen Castle, by HENRY III. in 1234, and rece from that monarch several grants of lands in South Wales Gloucestershire. From him the extant GAGES derive; and t continued to reside at Cirencester, co. Gloucester, until death of JOHN GAUGE, or GAGE (only son of John de Gauge Cirencester), who had m. Joan, dau. and co-heir of John S grove, of Sudgrove-in-Miserden, co. Gloucester; and dy circa 1440, was s. by his son, SIR JOHN GAGE, Knt. of Burstowe, co. Surrey, who acqui that seat, as well as Penshurst, in Kent and considerable est in Sussex and Buckinghamshire, with his wife Eleanor, d and co-heir of Thomas St Clere (only son of Sir Philip St. Cl Knt. of Igtham, by Margaret, sole heir of Sir Nicholas Lovayne, Knt. of Burstowe, and grandson of Sir Philip St. Cl Knt., M.P. for Sussex in 1377). GALLOWAY.

LLOWAY, EARL OF (Sir Alan-Plantagenet art, K.T.), and Lord Garlies, in Scotland; Baron art of Garlies, in Great Britain; and a Baronet;
hon col. 4th Batt. the Royal Scots Fusiliers;
apt. royal horse guards; H.M. Commissioner to General Assembly of the Church of Scotland,
-1877; M.P. for Wigtownshire 1868 to 1873;
Oct. 1835; s. his father as 10th earl, 1873;
5 Jan. 1872, Lady Mary-Arabella-Arthur Cecil,
dau. of James, 2nd Marquis of Salisbury, K.G.

Lineage.

Earls of Galloway, who are of the same family as of the royal blood of Scotland, descend from Sir

John Stewart, brother of James, 5th High Steward of Scotland, who d. at Falkirk 1298, having m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir John Bonkyl, of Bonkyl, co. Berwick, and had issue, SIR ALEXANDER, of Bonkyl, from whom the Earls of Angus.

Sir Alan, of Dreghorn, from whom the lines of DARNLEY and LENNOX.
SIR WALTER, of Dalswinton.
Sir John, of Jedworth, father of SIR WILLIAM, of Jedworth, sheriff of Teviotdale, who was put to death by Henry Percy in 1402; who was father of SIR JOHN STEWART, who m. MARION STEWART, as below.
Sir James, of Pierston.
Isabel, m. Thomas Randolph, Earl of Moray.

SIR WALTER, the 3rd son, obtained Dalswinton from Robert Bruce, and the barony of Garlies (which had from 1263 until the previous generation been a Stewart possession) from his nephew, John, Earl of Moray. His son,

SIR JOHN, of Dalswinton, captured at Durham 1346, was father of

SIR WALTER, of Dalswinton, whose only child and heiress,

MARION, m. 1396, SIR JOHN STEWART, of Jedworth, as above. Their son,

SIR WILLIAM STEWART, of Dalswinton and Garlies, obtained the estate of Minto, in 1429, after much opposition from the Turnbulls, the former possessors. He was living in the year 1479, and had issue,

ALEXANDER (Sir), his successor.
Thomas (Sir), of Minto, ancestor of Lord Blantyre.
Walter, of Tonderghie, ancestor of STEWART, of Tonderghie, and of STEWART, Bart., of Fort Stewart, co. Donegal.

Sir William was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, who had issue, ALEXANDER; John, m. Elizabeth Shaw, and d. s. p., vitâ patris; Archibald, of Fintalloch; and Agnes, m. John, 4th Lord Maxwell. The eldest son, ALEXANDER, was designated in his father's lifetime Alexander of Garlies, which continued to be the chief title of the family till they were made Earls of Galloway. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Archibald Douglas, of Cavers, heritable sheriff of Teviotdale, and dying in 1501, was s. by his son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, who was in great favour with JAMES IV., and who fell with his royal master at the fatal battle of Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513. He left by his wife, Elizabeth Kennedy, one son and sixteen daus., the eldest of whom, Nicolas, was m. to Sir John Dunbar, of Mochrum, and each of the others became the wife of a laird of distinction. Sir Alexander was s. by his only son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, who was one of the prisoners taken at the rout of Solway, in Nov. 1542; and appears to have been released, in 1543, on giving his son and heir ALEXANDER, as his hostage. He m. thrice, and had, by his 2nd wife, Margaret, dau. and heir of Patrick Dunbar, of Clugston,

I. ALEXANDER STEWART, the younger, of Garlies, who was a personage of great bravery and spirit, and a zealous promoter of the Reformation. He sent a challenge to the famous Sir William Kirkaldy, of Grange, governor of Edinburgh Castle for the Queen; but Sir William evaded the rencontre, from caution, not from fear, because he deemed his life at that time of the utmost consequence to his sovereign. Alexander Stewart was appointed commissioner for the Kirks of Nithsdale, and was a member of the convention or parliament that met in 1560. He was knighted when Lord Darnley was made Earl of Ross, adhered firmly to the interest of JAMES VI. in his minority, and was slain with the Regent Lennox at the surprise of Stirling in 1571, in the lifetime of his father. By his wife Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Lord Herries, of Terregles, he left a son, ALEXANDER, successor to his grandfather, also two daughters, Agnes and Elizabeth,
II. John, parson of Kirkmahoe, m. Margaret, dau. of Walter Stewart, of Tonderghie, and had issue.

Sir Alexander's third wife was Katherine, only dau. of William Stewart, of Tonderghie, and by her he had Anthony, m. Barbara Gordon, heiress of Clary; Robert, m. Mary Stewart, heiress of Cardonald; William, of Bargrennan; Margaret, m. Patrick McKie, of Larg, and Helen, m. William Gordon, of Murefad, ancestor of Viscount Kenmure. Sir Alexander d. before 1585, and was s. by his grandson,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, who was in great favour with JAMES VI., who knighted him in 1590 at the coronation of his consort, Queen ANNE of Denmark. Sir Alexander m. 1st, Christian, dau. of Sir William Douglas, of Drumlanrig, and 2ndly, the Lady Elizabeth Douglas, dau. of David, Earl of Angus, and widow of John, 7th

Lord Maxwell (Earl of Morton), but by her (who m. 3rdly, circa 1598, John Wallace, of Craigie, co. Ayr, and d. 1637) had no issue. He d. 6 Oct 1596, leaving issue by his first wife,

I. ALEXANDER, his heir.

II. William, of Mains, whose line ended in his grandson, Sir James Stewart, Bart. of Burray.

I. Helen, m. to John Douglas, of Stanhouse.

II. Jane, m. to John Kennedy, of Culzean, whose dau., Egidia m. Sir John Grierson, of Lag.

III. Nicolas, m. to John Dunbar, of Mochrum.

His elder son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, a man of great talent, loyalty, and integrity, who, after receiving the honour of knighthood, was elevated to the peerage, 19 July, 1607, by the title of Baron of Garlies, and upon 19 Sept. 1623, his lordship was advanced to the EARLDOM OF GALLOWAY (with remainder to his heirs male bearing the name and arms of Stewart), when he was sworn of the privy council of JAMES VI. The Earl was afterwards a stanch adherent of CHARLES I. and of his privy council. He m. 16 Oct., 1600, Grisel, dau. of Sir John Gordon, of Lochinvar, ancestor of Viscount Kenmure; and d. in 1649, having had two sons and a dau.,

I. Alexander, Lord Garlies, who d. 1638, having m. 1st, 1627, Anne, dau. of Charles, Earl of Nottingham; 2ndly, 1633, Margaret, dau. of William, Earl of Menteith and Airth (who m. 2ndly, Ludovic, 16th Earl of Crawford), and had a son, Alexander, Lord Garlies, who predeceased his grandfather in 1642.

II. JAMES, 2nd earl.

I. Anne, m. Sir Andrew Agnew, 2nd bart. of Lochnaw.

He was s. by his only surviving son,

JAMES, 2nd earl, who, in his father's life, had in 1627 been made a Baronet of Nova Scotia, with remainder to his heirs male. His lordship was a firm adherent of the Stuarts; and when, in 1654, Oliver Cromwell gave an act of indemnity to the Scots, this Earl, for his attachment to the royal family, was fined £4,000. He, however, lived to see the Restoration, and came into great favour with CHARLES II.; he m. 1642, Nicolas, dau. of Sir Robert Grier or Grierson, of Lag, M.P., in 1639, and had issue,

I. ALEXANDER, 3rd earl.

II. Robert, of Ravenstone; m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir David Dunbar, Bart. of Baldoon, and had issue,

1 Helen, or Eleanor, m. Thomas, eldest son of Sir Thomas Kirkpatrick, Bart. of Closeburn, and d. s. p.

2 Elizabeth, m. William Blair-McGuffock, of Rusco Castle, and had issue. Her great-great-grandson, Col. Sir John Graham-McKerlie, K.C.B., late R.E., m. with issue, is heir and representative of Hon. Robert Stewart.

3 Nicolas, m. John Gordon, of Greenlaw, Stewartry.

4 Grizel, d. unm.

III. William, of Castlestewart, m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of John Gordon, of Cardoness, and left issue, William, s. to Castlestewart, m. 1st, Isabel, dau. of Sir William Maxwell, Bart. of Monreith; 2ndly, Jean, dau. of A. Heron, of Kirrouchtrie, and left issue by each.

Nicolas, m. Lieut.-Col. William Maxwell, who obtained Cardoness. Her descendant is Sir William Maxwell, Bart. of Cardoness.

I. Grizel, m Alexander, 5th Viscount Kenmure, and had issue.

The earl d. in June, 1671, and was s. by his eldest son, ALEXANDER, 3rd earl. This nobleman m. 1st, Mary, dau. of James, 2nd Earl of Queensberry, by whom he had,

I. ALEXANDER, 4th earl.

II. JAMES, s. his brother as 5th earl.

III. John, brigadier-gen., of Sorby, d. unm. at Sorby in 1748.

IV. Andrew, d. in the Darien expedition, 1699.

V. William. VI. Robert.

I. Margaret, m. Sir John Clerk, Bart. of Penicuik.

II. Henrietta, m. William, Earl of Glencairn, and had issue.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of John, 1st Earl of Traquair, and dying in Sept. 1690, was s. by his eldest son, ALEXANDER, 4th earl, who d. unm. in 1694, when the honour devolved upon his brother,

JAMES, 5th earl, a privy councillor, and statesman of ability in the reign of Queen ANNE; he m. 1694, Catherine, dau. of Alexander, 9th Earl of Eglinton, and had issue by her (who d. 1737),

I. ALEXANDER, 6th earl.

II. James, lieut.-gen. and col. 37th regt., M.P. Wigtoun burghs.

III. William, served as a cavalry officer, M.P. Wigtoun burghs. IV. George, d. young.

I. Margaret, m. 1st, James, 5th Earl of Southesk, attainted in 1715; 2ndly, to John, Master of Sinclair, also attainted, but d. s. p.

II. Euphemia, m. John Murray, Esq. of Broughton, and had a son, James, who in 1752 m. his cousin, Lady Catherine, dau. of Alexander, 6th earl.

III. Catherine-Anne, d. 12 March, 1755.

The earl d. 16 Feb. 1746, and was s. by his eldest son, ALEXANDER, 6th earl. LEOPOLD-ERNEST-STRATFORD-GEORGE (to whom H.R.H. Prince Leopold stood sponsor), b. 21 July, 1878.

Lineage.

The name of Canning is derived from the manor of All Cannings, in Wiltshire, at which the family was originally seated, and the senior line continued, until it terminated in co-heiresses in the time of HENRY VII. The first on record is RICHARD DE KANYNGES, who filled the office of priest at Little Cheveril in 1299; another is John de Kanynges, who became Abbot of the Monastery at Abingdon, his elevation being confirmed by EDWARD II.; and the next is a younger son,

ROBERT CANYNGES, who settled in Bristol, and who founded a branch which became the most eminent family of that city during the 14th and 15th centuries. He first appears as an eminent merchant in 1322. He was father of

WILLIAM CANYNGES, who represented Bristol in several successive parliaments, and was no less than six times mayor of that city. He d. in 1396, leaving, with other issue,

JOHN CANYNGE, his son and heir, who twice became Mayor of Bristol and once member for it in parliament. He d. in 1405, lesving by Joan Wotton, his wife, with three daus., three sons,

I. JOHN, his heir. II. Thomas (Sir), of whom presently.

III. WILLIAM, who undertook the complete restoration of St. Mary Redcliffe Church, still the chief ornament of Bristol, and is the hero of the Rowley Poems (Chatterton). This William Canning was twice M.P. for Bristol, and to the mayoralty of that city, which had become a sort of heirloom in his family, he was elected no less than five times; he was the celebrated mayor of Bristol in the reign of EDWARD IV., and received during his third mayoralty, MARGARET of Anjou, and during his fourth, King EDWARD IV. Large sums of money having been advanced by him to aid his sovereign, EDWARD IV., it was proposed to him, by way of compensation, that he should marry a natural dau. of the king. Faithful, however, to the memory of his first wife, he did not listen to the proposal, and in order to evade the king's command took holy orders. He d. in 1476, dean of the college of Westbury, which he had founded.

The 2nd son,

SIR THOMAS CANNINGE, was Lord Mayor of London By his marriage with Agnes, the eldest dau. and c of John Salmon and Eustatia, his wife, dau. and co-heir of le Marshall, he acquired the estate of Foxcote, co. War which had been vested in this family from the time c conquest; he was s. by his son and heir,

Lineage.

The Goldneys were merchants of wealth and importance at Bristol for many generations, as appears by the archives of that city for the last six centuries.

A branch of the family settled at Chippenham, Wilts, in the 15th century, and has been instrumental in the development of the important cloth manufactories of the West of England. In early times the name appears to have been variously written "Goldney," and "Goldney alias Farnewell."

Adam Goldney, of Chippenham, who obtained a lease from the family of Bayntun, of Spye Park, 10 June, 1575, and had a son, Henry Goldney, of Chippenham, M.P. for Chippenham 1553, appointed by Charter of Incorporation, by Mary I., 1553, first bayliff of Chippenham, a large landholder under grants from Sherborne Abbey, Eton College, and the Bayntuns of Spye Park. I. Ida-Augusta. II. Agnes-Beryl.

Lineage.

The family of GORING is of considerable antiquity in the co. of Sussex, and may be presumed to have derived its name from Goring, a parish in the rape of Arundel.

JOHN, Lord of Goring, lived about the time of King HENRY III., and was father of John, the father of Robert de Goring. The last-mentioned Robert de Goring was father of three sons, John, Thomas, and Simon. John, the eldest, lived in the reign of EDWARD III., and was father of John Goring, of Lancing, co. Sussex, father of another John, of the same place, whose son, John Goring, of Lancing, temp. HENRY VI., m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Ralph Radmylde (by Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard Camoys, whose father was summoned to parliament in 7 RICHARD II., and heir to Sir William Radmylde, her nephew); and 2ndly, Joan, widow of Humphrey Hewster, of London. He d. in 1495, leaving issue by his 1st wife,

I. Ismay-Lucretia-Mary, b. 29 Oct. 1882.

Lineage.

The first member of this very ancient and distinguished family which we find upon record in Ireland is

PHILIP DE PRESTON, whose grandson,

ROGER DE PRESTON, was justice of the court of Common Pleas in the 1st year of EDWARD III.; and in 1331, one of the justices of the court of King's Bench. The son and heir of this learned person,

SIR ROBERT DE PRESTON, who was knighted in the field, 1361, by Lionel, Duke of Clarence, and obtained a grant for ever of the manor of Gormanston, in the cos. of Dublin and Meath, was Lord of Preston in Lancashire, and filled the office of LORD-HIGH-CHANCELLOR OF IRELAND. Being possessed of Carbery, co. Kildare, he made that the chief place of his residence. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Walter de Birmingham, Lord of Carbery, and was s. by his only son,

SIR CHRISTOPHER PRESTON, Knt. This gentleman was imprisoned in the castle of Trim for corresponding with the prior of Kilmainham. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of William Laundres, Baron of Naas, in the right of his mother, Emma, dau. of William Fitzmaurice, Baron of Naas (so created by HENRY II.), and his wife, Helen, sister of Richard, Earl of Pembroke (by which marriage the Prestons obtained the barony of Naas). Sir Christopher was s. by his only son,

CHRISTOPHER PRESTON, Baron of Naas, in right of his mother, who m. Jane, dau. of Sir Jenico D'Artois, Knt., and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR ROBERT PRESTON, who was appointed deputy to Sir John Dynham, lord-chancellor of Ireland; and Richard, Duke of York, youngest son of EDWARD IV., being constituted lord-deputy of Ireland, 5 May, 1478, Sir Robert was appointed that prince's deputy (he being in minority), with power to elect a deputy to himself. On the 7th Aug. in the same year (1478), he was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, by the title of VISCOUNT GORMANSTON, of Gormanston. His lordship sat in the parliament of 1490, and in that of 1493. He m. Janet, dau. of Sir Richard Molyneux, of Sefton, co. Lancaster, and dying, 5 April, 1503, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR WILLIAM, 2nd viscount. This nobleman filled the office of deputy to Sir James Butler, lord-treasurer in 1493. In 1504 his lordship attended the Earl of Kildare, lord-deputy, to the famous battle of Knocktough, in the province of Connaught, where, with Lord Killeen, he led the wings of the bowmen; and in 1525, he was appointed lord-justice of Ireland. His lordship m. 1st, Anne, dau. of John Burnell, of Ballgriffin, co. Dublin, and 2ndly, Eleanor, dau. of Sir Thomas Dowdall and widow of John Nangle, Esq. of Navan, and dying 21 Sept. 1532, was s. by his eldest son (by his 1st wife), JENICO, 3rd viscount, who m. Catherine, dau. of Gerald, 9th Earl of Kildare, and d. 1569. He was s. by his eldest son,

CHRISTOPHER, 4th viscount. This nobleman, by his 2nd wife, Catherine, dau. of Sir Thomas Fitzwilliam, of Meryon, co. Dublin, left, with several daus., three sons, namely,

I. JENICO, his successor.

II. Thomas, created Viscount Tara, which title ceased with his lordship's grandson, Thomas, 3rd viscount, who was killed 6 July, 1674 by Sir Francis Blundell, Knt. of the King's County, and his brothers, William and Winwood Blundell. These gentlemen being all, however, acquitted of murder, received his Majesty's pardon in the December of the same year.

III. William.

His lordship d. 24 Jan. 1599, and was s. by his eldest son,

JENICO, 5th viscount, who m. Margaret, dau. of Nicholas St. Lawrence, Lord Howth (she m. 2ndly, Luke, 1st Earl of Fingall, and d. 16 Nov. 1637), and had (with a dau., Mary, m. 1st, to Sir Thomas Alen, Bart. of St. Wolstan's, and 2ndly, to Simon Luttrell, Esq. of Luttrelstown) a son, his successor at his decease, 14 March, 1630,

NICHOLAS, 6th viscount, who m. Mary, dau. of Nicholas, 1st Viscount Barnewall of Kingsland, by whom (who d. in May, 1642) he had issue,

I. JENICO, his successor.

II. Nicholas, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Anthony, 2nd Viscount Tara, and had issue, JENICO, who s. as 8th viscount.

ANTHONY, who s. as 9th viscount.

His lordship d. 29 July, 1643, and was s. by his eldest son,

JENICO, 7th viscount. This nobleman having adhered to his legitimate sovereign, JAMES II., was indicted for high-treason, and outlawed upon that indictment, 16 April, 1691. His lordship m. 1st, Frances, 5th dau. of Francis-Leke, 1st Earl of Scarsdale (she d. s. p. 29 July, 1682); 2ndly, in Nov. 1683, Margaret, dau. of Caryll, 3rd Viscount Molyneux (which lady m. 2ndly, 10 March, 1692, James Butler, Esq. of Kilveagher, co. Tipperary; and 3rdly, Robert Casey, Esq. of Dublin), but dying without male issue, March, 1691, was s. by his nephew, JENICO, styled 8th viscount, but the title was not acknowledged, although borne by his lordship, and his three immediate successors. He was s. by his brother,

ANTHONY, 9th viscount, who m. in 1700, Mary, only child of his uncle, JENICO, 7th viscount, and was s. 25 Sept. 1716, by his only son,

Lineage.

RICE, Lord of Prendergast, in Pembrokeshire, "a righte ite captain," says Holinshed, was one of the Norman s who united with Strongbow, Earl of Pembroke, in the n of Ireland. He landed in May, 1169, at the head of ights and two hundred archers, took a prominent part in ccessful war which followed, and obtained an ample share conquered lands. In 1177, he gave his castle of Prendern Wales, to the knights of St. John of Jerusalem; and ually joining that order, was prior of Kilmainham at his in 1205. From Gerald, his youngest son, descended the ergasts of Mayo, whose Irish title of MacMaurice gave to the barony of Clanmorres, and of which family Lord ore represents the Castle Macgarret branch, whilst his son,

ELIP DE PRENDERGAST, was summoned as a baron in 1206, and 1221. He m. Maude, dau. and heir of Robert de y, with whom he acquired the town of Enniscorthy and bleship of Leinster. He d. 1226, leaving issue, GERALD, eir; WILLIAM, of whom hereafter; and David, who was in nds of his kinsman Sayer de Quincy, earl of Winchester, as tage for the loyalty of the Earl of Pembroke during the s' War, but was released by royal writ signed at Runny-, 12 June, 1215, during the conferences with the barons, resulted in the grant of Magna Charta. The eldest son,

RALD DE PRENDERGAST, who founded the Abbey of Enrthy, m. 1st, Matilda, dau. of Theobald le Botiller, by he had an only dau., Maria, wife of John, Lord Cogan. 2ndly, Matilda, dau. of Richard de Burgo, and sister of Earl of Ulster, by whom he had likewise an only dau., lda, who m. Maurice de Rochfort; and dying in 1251, his es, including forty knights' fees in Wexford and Cork, fell heir issue as co-heirs, whilst the representation of the ly devolved on his brother,

LLIAM DE PRENDERGAST, younger son of Philip, who obtained lordship of Newcastle, co. Tipperary, from Jeffrey de Ma-, circa 1230, in exchange for other lands. By his wife nore, who appears to have been co-heir of William de Berham; he had issue, John and JEFFREY, of whom the former p. in 1275, when his brother,

FFREY DE PRENDERGAST, s. to Newcastle. Richard, Lord e, however, contested his right thereto; and Piers de Berham seized his castle of Mullough, which he recovered at in 1276, but it was burnt by Lord Slane in the following r. He was summoned to the parliament of 1281, and fined hundred shillings for being absent. His eldest son,

R PHILIP DE PRENDERGAST was involved in further litigawith Lord Slane. He d. 1303, leaving three sons, JEFFREY, heir; MAURICE, whose son JOHN, though blind, eventually erited Newcastle, and was ancestor to Viscount Gort; and Philip, of Drangan, co. Tipperary. The eldest son,

EFFREY DE PRENDERGAST, m. Isolda, dau. of Piers, 3rd d Athenry, whose ward he had been. He was sheriff of Tipary in 1327. To him, Baldwin, Lord Slane, gave up his claim the manor of Newcastle, by a deed dated 13 Jan. 1311, olled in the Court of Exchequer in Ireland; and as this ate continued henceforth in the undisputed possession of s family, we shall at once proceed to

AMES FITZTHOMAS PRENDERGAST, Esq. of Newcastle, who m. anor, dau. of Sir John Grace, Knt. of Courtstown, and d. Feb. 1575, leaving several sons, of whom, Edmond, of llaghmelan, was M.P. for Tipperary in 1585; whilst the est,

In 1583, being then under age, he joined, at Queen ELIZABETH's request, in a surrender of the title and estate of Cahir to Sir Theobald Butler, the male heir of that family, to whom the Queen granted them by a new patent under which they descended to the Earls of Glengall. He d. 1 March, 1626; and Thomas, 2nd Lord Cahir of the new creation, dying soon after, without male issue, his eldest son,

JAMES PRENDERGAST, Esq. of Newcastle, claimed that barony, the legality of the surrender of 1583 being doubtful, and Eleanor Butler, the other co-heir, who m. Sir John Oge Fitzgerald, son of John, 14th Earl of Desmond, having d. s. p., which led to his being unfortunately killed in Cahir Castle, 12 Dec. 1627, by his kinsman, Edmond, 3rd Lord Dunboyne, whose wife was the heir of the deceased nobleman. He had m. Catharine, dau. of Sir John Fitzgerald, of the Decies, but d. s. p. and was s. by his brother,

EDMOND PRENDERGAST, Esq., to whom the Manor of Newcastle was confirmed, in 1639, by the Commission of Grace, with divers privileges, which were sanctioned by act of parliament in 1641; but the civil wars breaking out soon after, all his castles were dismantled, and his estates seized by CROMWELL. He d. about 1656, leaving issue, Jeffrey (whose sons, following JAMES II. into exile, were distinguished officers in the French service), and

Lineage.

The founder of this noble family in Ireland was,

ARCHIBALD ACHESON, Esq. of Gosford, co. Haddington, North Britain, who settled in that kingdom in the beginning of the 17th century. In the year 1611, we find Mr. Acheson obtaining a large grant of lands in the co. of Armagh; and in the following year, another grant in the co. of Cavan. On 1 Jan. 1628, he was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia; and in 1630, he obtained a tract of land in that province. Sir Archibald was solicitor-general, a senator of justice, and many years secretary of state for Scotland; which latter office he continued to fill until his decease, at Letterkeny, in the co. of Donegal, in 1634, when he was s. in his title and estates by his eldest son,

SIR PATRICK, at whose decease without issue, in 1638, the title devolved upon his brother,

SIR GEORGE, who d. in 1685, and was s. by his only son,

SIR NICHOLAS, M.P., for the co. of Armagh, in 1695; who d. in 1701, and was s. by his eldest son, VALENTINE-RAYMOND, b. 21 Jan. 1877.

Lineage.

The old and eminent family of GRACE ranks amongst the earliest of the Anglo-Norman settlers in Ireland. Under the banner of Richard de Clare, the well-known Strongbow, RAYMOND FITZ-WALTER, surnamed Le Gros, landed in that kingdom, became subsequently (anno 1176) its viceroy, and marrying Basilia de Clare, Strongbow's sister, acquired, it is stated, the extensive district in the county of Kilkenny, still denominated "The Cantred of Grace's Country." To this gallant soldier the GRACES trace their foundation. Raymond Le Gros had two sons,

WILLIAM, his heir.

Maurice Fitz-Raymond, Lord of Lixnaw and Clanmorris, ancestor of the noble house of Fitzmaurice, Earls of Kerry.

WILLIAM LE GROS, or Fitz-Raymond, the eldest son of Raymond, became Baron of Courtstown, or Tullaroan, and Lord of Grace's Country. He m. Margaret, dau. of Robert Fitz-Warren, of Wales; but we pass from him to his descendant (the twelfth in succession).

SIR JOHN LE GROS (surnamed Crios iarainn, The Iron-belted), Baron of Courtstown, and Lord of Grace's Country, living in 1520 and 1534. He m. Catherine, dau. of Pierce, Lord le Poer, of Curraghmore, co. Waterford, and had two sons, viz.,

JOHN, who at his father's decease became Baron of Courtstown, and Lord of Grace's Country. OLIVER (Sir).

The 2nd son,

SIR OLIVER GRACE, Knt. (surnamed Ciall mhar, The Wise), of Ballylinch and Legan Castles, co. Kilkenny, was Lord of Carney, in Tipperary, and M.P. for that county in 1559. He m. Mary, dau. of Sir Gerald Fitzgerald, 3rd Lord Decies, by his wife, Ellice, dau. of Pierce Butler, 8th Earl of Ormonde, and dying about 1580, was s. by his son,

GERALD GRACE (surnamed Marcach, The Horseman), of Ballylinch Castle, who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Robert Hartpole, of Shrule Castle, in the Queen's County, and was s. at his decease, 4 March, 1618, by his son,

OLIVER GRACE, of Ballylinch Castle (surnamed Skeevaugh, The Handsome), who d. 27 Aug. 1626, leaving by his wife, Margaret, dau. of Edmund Butler, 2nd Viscount Mountgarret, a son and successor,

GERALD GRACE, of Ballylinch Castle (called Reenire, The Traveller). This gentleman fell at the battle of Kilrush, 15 April, 1642, and a confiscation, by the Commonwealth, of estates to the extent of 17,000 acres followed. He had m. Ellen, eldest dau. and eventually co-heir of Edmund Butler, 3rd Lord Dunboyne, and his wife Margaret, sole heir of Thomas, 4th Lord Caher, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM GRACE, who was styled of Ballylinch Castle, but resided at Barrowmount, co. Kilkenny. He m. Elinor, sister of Edward, 2nd Viscount Galmoye (by Margaret, his wife, dau. of Nicholas, 1st Lord Netterville, widow of James, the eldest son of Pierce Butler, Viscount Ikerrin, ancestor of the Earls of Carrick), and had issue,

I. OLIVER, his successor.

WILLIAM, of Craigievar, ancestor of FORBES of Craigievar; III. John, minister of Delf, in Holland; IV. Alexander; V. James; VI. ARTHUR (Sir) of whom we treat; and VII. Robert. The sixth son,

SIR ARTHUR FORBES, Knt, settled in Ireland, in 1620, and was made by patent, dated at Dublin, in 1622, a free denizen of that kingdom. Sir Arthur was created 29 Sept. 1628, a Baronet of Nova Scotia; and obtained extensive territorial possessions from the crown, particularly a grant of sundry lands in the co. of Longford, which were erected into the manor of Castle Forbes. Sir Arthur m. Jane Lauder, of the Bass, and falling in a duel at Hamburgh, in 1632, where he had, as lieut.-col. accompanied his regiment to assist GUSTAVUS-ADOLPHUS, of Sweden, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR ARTHUR, b. in 1623. This gentleman, who zealously espoused the royal cause in Scotland, and served under Montrose, was rewarded, after the Restoration, by being sworn of the privy council in Ireland (A.D. 1670), and appointed Marshal of the army in that kingdom. In 1671, Sir Arthur was constituted one of the lords-justices, and again in 1673. He was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, by patent, dated 22 Nov. 1675, as Baron Clanehugh and Viscount Granard. In 1684, his lordship raised and was made col. of the 18th royal Irish regt. of foot in Ireland, and lieut.-gen. in the army; and on the 30th Dec. in the same year, created EARL OF GRANARD. It was this Earl of Granard who suggested to King CHARLES II, the foundation of Kilmainham Hospital. He m. Catharine, dau. of Sir Robert Newcomen, Bart. of Moss Town, co.
